Ike Blasts Adlai's Charges Of GOP Rift as 'Nonsense'

House Nears Vote on Cut in Excise Taxes

Virtually Unanimous Approval Predicted on $912 Million Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders of both parties predicted close to unanimous approval late today for a bill to slice about 912 million dollars a year off many excise taxes and to postpone for one year cuts scheduled in others.

Hours of political debate were in prospect, however, over different aspects of the first major tax bill to hit the House floor in this congressional election year. The Senate has not acted on it.

The bill would level off at 10 per cent all excise or sales tax rates now above that figure, except for liquor and tobacco, effective April 1.

Wide Range of Cuts

Sponsors said this would bring a wide range of price as well as tax cuts, save shoppers substantial sums, and give a boost to business to help combat the present economic dip.

In the background, a big fight was shaping up for next Wednesday and Thursday, when a bill to overhaul almost all tax laws is scheduled on the House floor.

Democrats will fight to add a $100 increase in individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent.

The bill up today would slash the present 25 per cent rate on long-distance telephone calls; cut in half the 20 per cent tax on movies, sports and other admission tickets, and on furs, jewelry, luggage, cosmetics, women's pocketbooks, wallets, cameras film and light bulbs; and cut one third from the present 15 per cent rate on sporting goods, pens; mechanical pencils, lighters, local telephone bills and rail, bus or air passenger fares.

Other Side of Picture

On the other side, it would cancel about $1,070,000,000 in excise tax reductions scheduled April 1 under present law.

These cuts, if allowed, would have reduced the tax on liquor from $10.50 to $9.00 a gallon; on cigarettes, from 8 to 7 cents a standard pack; on automobiles from 10 to 7 per cent; on gasoline from 2 cents to 1½ cents a gallon; on trucks and buses from 8 to 5 per cent; on beer from $9 to $8 a barrel, and on wine about one third, the exact figure depending upon alcohol content.

The Eisenhower administration opposed the sweeping cuts in the bill, although it favored cancellation of the scheduled reductions. The administration has decided not to fight the excise-cutting move in the House but to pin its hopes on the Senate.

GM Sales in '53 Top 10 Billion For New Mark

Profit of 598 Million Ranks Highest Among American Industries

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten billion dollars in sales, more than 1¾ billions in taxes, 598 millions in profits—that's the record of General Motors Corp. for 1953.

The sales of $10,027,985,482 were the highest in history for any private corporation and eclipsed by a wide margin the $7,549,154,419 in 1953, previous record for GM or any other firm.

Net income of $598,119,478 was only the third highest for the giant auto manufacturer but GM kept its position as biggest money maker in American industry, topping 1953 earnings of 553 million by Standard Oil Co. (N.J.) and 491 million for the Bell Telephone System.

Taxes Over Billion

Direct taxes of $1,237,000,000 plus $661,000,000 collected by GM in sales and excise taxes came to $1,898,000,000 equivalent to $21.77 a share of common stock, compared with net income of $6.71 a share.

"Earnings continued to be adversely affected by excess profits taxes and in 1953 earnings also were affected by higher material costs, particularly higher premium steel costs, higher labor costs including large amounts for overtime premiums, and increased costs for special tools," said the annual report.

The report to GMs 495,000 stockholders, by Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board, reported the company sold 3,760,000 passenger cars and trucks in 1953 against 2,629,000 in 1952. Of the 1953 total, 3,276,000 were produced in the company's United States plants and 484,000 in Canadian and overseas plants. Of 1953 U.S. and Canadian factory sales for passenger cars, GM had 45.7 per cent.

Net Income Down

The net income of $6.71 a share, after the annual requirement of $12,928,312 in preferred dividends, amounted to 6 per cent on net sales. This compared with 7.4 per cent on sales in 1952 when net income was $558,721,179 or $6.25 a share. The only years when net income exceeded that for 1953 were 1949 when it was $656,434,232 and 1950 when it was $834,044,039, which still stands as an all-time record for any private enterprise.

Assets at the end of the year were $4,405,475,042 compared with $4,001,294,708 at the end of 1952.

Ike Nominates Anderson for Kyes' Position

Gov. Lodge Considered To Replace Democrat As Secretary of Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration was moving today to fill quickly the vacancy in the Navy secretary's post created by the selection of Robert B. Anderson to be deputy defense secretary.

The White House announced yesterday that President Eisenhower had sent Anderson's nomination to the Senate, to succeed Roger M. Kyes, who is leaving as No. 2 man in the Defense Department May 1. Anderson is a "Democrat for Eisenhower" from Texas.

Gov. Lodge Mentioned

Secretary of Defense Wilson, at a Pentagon news conference shortly after the White House announcement, was asked if Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut, a Republican, was being considered to succeed Anderson for the Navy post. Wilson said "I would rather not talk about" any of the possible choices, but he added:

"It will be settled before the week is over—not later than that."

Kyes, who attended the news conference, was asked why he was leaving the defense job, which he took after resigning as a General Motors vice president.

"The best reason was that I agreed to come down (to Washington) for only one year," he replied.

Early Okay Expected

Anderson's nomination was referred to the Senate Armed Services Committee. Early Senate confirmation is expected.

Wilson told reporters the selection of Anderson, 43, was "very fortunate" because he now had a year's experience in Pentagon operations and "I'm sure he will contribute greatly to the job that is to be done."

Combat H-Bomb Could Be Biggest

HONOLULU (AP) — A combat-designed hydrogen bomb may produce history's greatest man-made blast in the Marshall Islands late this month.

There are mounting indications that an H-bomb will be exploded between March 16 and 28.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission is scheduled to visit the atomic proving grounds in the Pacific between those dates.

Nixon Praises Shift in U.S. World Policy

Initiative Regained From Reds, Veep Tells Forum in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vice President Nixon told a Philadelphia Bulletin Forum audience last night the United States has adjusted its thinking to the point "where we will now fight on our own terms."

Nixon, in the forum's keynote address, said U.S. armed strength and military planning is being rearranged "to carry out that policy," a plan which he said has already born visible fruit.

Peace and Prosperity

"In not one area of the world," he said, "have the Reds gained this year—and in many areas we have made gains. For the first time in a generation we are experiencing peace and prosperity at the same time."

He said much of the credit for this successful shift can be traced to President Eisenhower as well as the National Security Council, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the "defense team" composed of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson.

He said the United States must aid the Associated States in Indochina because a Red victory there would mean the eventual loss of all Asia to communism.

Sums Up Situation

He said the present situation in the Far East can be summed up thus:

"If Southeast Asia falls, if it comes under the Communist domination or Communist orientation, what happens to Japan? Inevitably by necessity it must become an economic satellite in the Soviet orbit. . . .

"The loss of China led to Korea and to Indochina and the loss of Indochina may lead to the loss of Asia."

Donors Needed For Visit Here By Blood Unit

Unless more folks remember, volunteer workers at the Red Cross Blood Center in the First Presbyterian Church are not going to be very busy Thursday when the Bloodmobile Unit makes the second of its two-day visit here.

To date only 30 persons have registered, a check of the register in the Red Cross Chapter office shows. One hundred seventy-five donors are needed if the quota of 150 pints is reached.

Thursday was designated as "Rural Day" when it was hoped volunteers from the towns, villages and rural communities in the county would respond.

With time running out, the office is sending out an SOS for volunteers and hoping that many will walk in sometime between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday.

There still are thousands of servicemen in veterans hospitals here and overseas who need blood to help them on their way to recovery, Melvin Weston, blood chairman pointed out. Also there is a constant demand for blood in our own City Hospital, he added.

In 1953 more than 1,200 pints of blood was provided at the Marion City Hospital, free of charge, through the Red Cross Blood program. Blood also is given free of charge to local patients receiving medical care in other hospitals enrolled in the Red Cross program.

Warmer Weather Likely To Continue

By The Associated Press

More rain fell in western states and light snow and rain hit northeastern areas today as fairly mild weather prevailed in most of the country.

Showers continued during the night in the Pacific Coast states. Light showers also were reported in the Dakotas and Nebraska.

The only other precipitation was snow flurries in the eastern Great Lakes region, light snow in northern New England and showers along the Appalachians to West Virginia. Skies cleared in Florida after fairly heavy rains in the southern sections yesterday.

WHAT NEXT? At the age of 17 days, James P. Patterson Jr., wearing surgical dressing around waist and leg, seems to be wondering what else fate has in store for him. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Patterson, Ripley, Tenn., has been through two operations at a Memphis, Tenn., hospital—both for rare ailments. When he was six days old, surgeons had to clear an intestinal obstruction. On his ninth day, a blood clot had to be removed from his leg. He graduated from the incubator at 16 days old and was reported doing fine.

Police in Ohio Hunt Robbers Of Milan Bank

Pair Grabs $32,000 In Noontime Holdup; Flees With Stolen Car

MILAN, Ohio (AP)—Law enforcement men throughout Ohio hunted today for a pair of bandits who drove into this quiet community of 846 persons in a stolen car yesterday and robbed the town's lone bank of about $32,000.

It was Milan's first bank robbery since 1893 when two men trundled in with a rented team of horses and a surrey and made off with $25,000.

Yesterday's holdup took place shortly after noon while many of the business people along Milan's front street were eating lunch, a few streets from the small red brick house where inventor Thomas A. Edison was born.

Two women tellers were the only persons in the main room of the Erie County United Bank when the bandits, both described as youthful and shabbily dressed, walked in. One man lounged in a hallway guarding the door. The other poked a pistol at the women and then filled a pillow case with money from cash drawers.

They walked out and drove off in a 1948 or 1949 green Chevrolet, bearing an Ohio license tag believed to be Q32R. State highway patrolmen said the tag was stolen from a car in Metamora, Fulton County.

One of the two women, Mrs. Helen Meck, 54, said the robbers didn't try to get money from the bank's vault. Bank officials would not say how much money they missed.

Geneva Sellout Feared by Rhee

ROK President Has No Illusions on Peace

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee has indicated South Korea will attend the Geneva conference on Far East problems but insists "we must have ironclad assurances there will be no sellout of Korea."

He likewise makes no secret of his views that the April meeting "will achieve nothing."

And he voiced a "final warning" that South Korea "cannot wait for unification for endless months while idle talk drags on.

The South Korean President said his country needed further information from U. S. Secretary of State Dulles before announcing its decision on the Geneva meeting.

"As soon as information is received I think we shall be in a position to decide what to do," Rhee said.

All the major countries except South Korea have agreed to go to Geneva April 26.

Rhee gave his views in answer to written questions from the Associated Press.

"We must have ironclad assurances there will be no sellout of Korea and that objectives of unification and expulsion of the Communists will be pursued with diligence and without compromise," he said.

Accused Pike Killer To Take Witness Stand

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — John Wesley Wable, on trial for his life, promised to tell a jury today all he knows about the phantom slaying of two truck drivers as they slept on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Wable's court-appointed counsel said the 24-year-old Ohiopyle, Pa., man will testify in his own behalf. Defense Atty. B. Patrick Costello, in his opening remarks to the jury, said:

"John Wesley Wable will take the stand in his own defense. He is going to tell his story."

Costello addressed the jury last night immediately after the state rested its case. The prosecution began taking testimony from state witnesses last Friday.

Costello asked the jury to keep an open mind until it heard all the evidence, he added:

"Every single bit of the commonwealth's evidence is circumstantial. The evidence that the defendant presents will be positive and concrete evidence."

The attorney said the defense will produce witnesses who will testify Wable was not on the turnpike when Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., and Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa., were killed.

The bodies of the two truckers were found last July within three days of each other. Each man had been shot in the head while sleeping in his parked truck.

Wholesale Food Price Still Soaring

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices as measured by Dun & Bradstreet climbed to another three-year-high this week.

At $7.25, the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index was at its highest point since March 15, 1951, when it stood at $7.27. It was the third successive week that the index had topped the levels of three years ago.

This week's figure compared with $7.21 the previous week and represented a gain of 15.4 per cent over the year-ago index of $6.28.

Inter-American Group Favors Anti-Red Plan

Adoption of Proposal For Hemisphere Unity May Come Saturday

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The Inter-American Conference headed today toward adoption, probably by Saturday, of the U.S. anti-Communist resolution.

Majority support appeared assured for U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' proposal to rally united action against Red attempts to dominate any part of the Western Hemisphere. Eight of the 19 Latin-American nations attending the 10th conference here already have signified their backing of the "Dulles Doctrine." Several others were expected to jump on the bandwagon today.

Final Form in Doubt

There still was some question today what final form the anti-Red resolution would take. There have been indications in the Political Committee discussing the issue that some Latin-American nations would propose amendments to the U.S. formula.

Guatemala, accused by the United States of being Communist-dominated, was the only nation voicing outright opposition to such a resolution. And Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello, while promising a fight against the U.S. proposal, admitted today its adoption seemed certain.

Adoption of the resolution would be a major diplomatic victory for Dulles, who stayed at the conference beyond the time he had planned in order to push through his proposals.

Mexican View

Already backing the United States were Venezuela, Cuba, Panama, Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Honduras and Paraguay.

Mexico has indicated it favors some action to curb Communist infiltration in the Western Hemisphere, but wants the U.S. resolution to include "any totalitarianism."

Refutes Claim Party Divided By McCarthy

Speech by Flanders Criticizing Senator Lauded by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today labeled as nonsense Adlai E. Stevenson's assertion that the Republican party is divided against itself—"half McCarthy and half Eisenhower."

At a news conference, the President also declared that Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) performed a great public service in his Senate speech criticizing Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) for diverting attention from important world problems.

Flanders had told the Senate that McCarthy "by intention or through ignorance" was "doing his best to shatter" the Republican party.

Asked for Comment

Eisenhower was asked for an expression of his opinion of Stevenson's statement in a speech in Miami last Saturday night that the Republican party is hopelessly divided.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, said the GOP had become "half McCarthy and half Eisenhower."

Commenting on that, Eisenhower replied that at the risk of appearing egotistical, he would say the Stevenson remark was nonsense.

As to Flanders' Senate speech of yesterday, Eisenhower said in response to questions that he agrees generally with what the Vermont senator said.

Flanders' main thesis was that the great Communist danger to the United States was from without and that McCarthy, with his concentration on internal subversion, was diverting attention dangerously from the external threats.

Eisenhower said he had heard and seen part of Flanders' speech attacking McCarthyism" on television last night.

Party of Responsibility

Prefacing his remarks with the usual observation that he doesn't comment on personalities, the President said the Republican party is now the party of responsibility, so charged by the people.

He said there was great danger in internecine warfare. He said that procedures that were irregular and were aimed at aggran-

Alaska Beauty Facing Murder Trial Ends Life

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A beautiful Alaskan blonde, charged with murder in the slaying of her wealthy husband, has removed herself from the jurisdiction of the courts by taking a lethal dose of sleeping pills.

Now a Negro musician, who claims he was her lover, faces trial alone on the murder charge in Alaska next month.

Police said Mrs. Diane Wells, 31, swallowed 30 powerful sedative tablets and died in her room at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel yesterday.

The distraught woman came here last Jan. 22 for health reasons after being released on $10,000 bail.

She had been arrested in Seattle on a grand jury indictment after she left Alaska.

She and jazz drummer Johnny Warren, 33, are accused of murdering her husband, Cecil Wells, 51, wealthy Fairbanks auto dealer and former president of the All-Alaska Chamber of Commerce. He was fatally shot in the Alaska city last Oct. 17.

Mrs. Wells had contended that she was beaten senseless by two men who broke into the Wells' Fairbanks home and her husband was killed before she regained consciousness. She sustained facial bruises and blackened eyes.

Warren, free on $5,000 bail, said he and Mrs. Wells had had a love affair, which she denied. She maintained she was innocent of the shooting.

Deadline Nears For Filing 1953 Tax Statements

Stragglers who have not yet filed their 1953 income tax returns were warned today that the deadline for filing is just three days away, Monday, March 15.

J. H. Sells, agent in charge of the Marion office of the Internal Revenue Service, said today that the office will remain open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday for the convenience of those who have been unable to visit the office for assistance in filing their returns during normal office hours.

Three agents will be on hand to assist taxpayers in preparing their returns. They request that all those seeking aid in filing returns bring all payroll withholding statements—Form W-2's—and all other records of income and business and other deductible expenses.

Those with rental or business incomes along with all other taxpayers can speed the filing of their returns if they bring their duplicate copy of last year's tax return, Sells said. He also asked that as much of the return be filled in as possible before bringing it to the office for completion.

Sheriff Resorts to Handcuffs

4 GIS Escapees Wreck Jail in Madison County

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Four teenaged escapees of the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware were blamed today for a disturbance that left part of the Madison County jail a shambles.

"We've had trouble before, but nothing like this," said Sheriff Harold Bidwell as he surveyed the damage in the wake of the girls' visit.

The girls, one 15, two 16 and the other 17 years of age, were taken to the jail early today after their capture by state highway patrolmen on U.S. 40 in Madison County. They had escaped from the girls' institution about 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Finally Handcuffed

It required efforts of the sheriff, several of his deputies and four highway patrolmen to subdue the girls—accomplished only after they had been handcuffed to the bars of a jail cell. The girls were from Ashtabula, Stark, Hamilton and Butler counties.

Here's what Sheriff Bidwell told of the disturbance:

The girls were brought to the jail by highway patrolmen about 3:30 a. m. They were attired in slacks and sweaters. The girls were not searched.

"Didn't see where their tight-fitting clothes left room for them to hide anything," the sheriff said.

Plug Lavatories

They were placed in two cells. Within a few minutes smoke was pouring from the cells. The girls had set fire to mattresses.

The fires were extinguished, and then the girls plugged the lavatories in the cells causing water to flood the floor of the cell block. Water seeped through the floor into

Honeymoon in Hawaii

Jack Benny's Daughter Wed in $25,000 Affair

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Joan Benny and Seth Baker embarked on a Hawaiian honeymoon today and her father, Jack Benny, was faced with an estimated $25,000 bill for one of the most fabulous weddings in Hollywood history.

Benny, wearing white tie, tails and glasses, last night led his 19-year-old adopted daughter through the flower-festooned Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. "I'd rather not look so good and wear glasses than fall on my face," the comedian explained.

Benny gave Joan in marriage to Baker, 26-year-old New York stock broker and son of industrialist Harry Baker, before a crowd of stars of stage, TV and movies. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin performed the double-ring ceremony and advised the couple to "forget about the tinsel of life and live for the good things."

Billed as a tightwad on his radio and TV programs, Benny spared no expense in the wedding. White lilacs were flown from Holland to add to the white and green motif that converted the Crystal Room into a spring garden. Designer Don Loper, who staged the affair, flew to France to arrange for an exclusive weave of brocaded white satin for the bride's gown. Thirty-five yards with lily of the valley figurings were used.

The wedding went off without a hitch. The principals faced news cameras before the ceremony and after. The bride's mother, Mary Livingston, who had arranged all the details, became impatient with the photographers and ordered the reception line to begin.

Church Activities

The home of Miss Mildred Clifton of 433 Thompson St. was the place for a recent meeting of the Asbury Methodist Church WSCS. Topic for devotions was "Sowing Seeds of Love," presented by Mrs. Elta Trickey, Miss Clifton, Miss Eileen Thomas, and Mrs. C. H. Hughes. Mrs. Hazel Burnett presented "Mission Work in the South." A social hour followed, and contest award went to Miss Thomas. Members will hold an all-day meeting at the regularly scheduled date next month for cleaning the church. A potluck dinner will be served.

Mrs. Eugene Douce of Caledonia was a guest of the Good Cheer Circle of King's Daughters at a meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Marjorie Weiser, 278 E. Center St. Mrs. Carl Lehner and Mrs. LaVern Nash served as co-hostesses. Devotions were given by Mrs. James N. Ward. A report of the City Union Board meeting was given by Mrs. Francis W. Roush. For the program, Mrs. J. C. Scheifler Jr. read an article on "How We Came To Have Hymns in our Worship" and the story of the hymn "I Would Be True" was given by Mrs. Jane Kleppinger. The meeting closed with a Memorial service for the late Mrs. Mildred Schuetz, a member of the circle, by Mrs. Francis Roush. A social hour followed and the next meeting of the circle will be April 12, at the home of Mrs. Kleppinger, 157 N. Grand Avenue.

A chili supper preceded a recent meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Prospect Street Methodist Church held at the church. Devotions on the theme, "Prayer," were conducted by Miss Della Owen. Included were two hymns by a quartet composed of Miss Marie Bender, Mrs. Wilbur Flach, Mrs. Carroll Schmidt and Mrs. Kenneth Connolly, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kenneth Hecker, and scripture and meditation by Mrs. Robert Boyd.

Guest speaker for the program was Mrs. Opal Campbell of Lima, district Guild secretary. Her talk concerned future meetings outlined for the Guild and she also reviewed mission projects at home and abroad.

Mrs. John Werbel presided for the meeting during which Mrs. Boyd gave a report on a recent bake sale and Mrs. Delmar Risch reported a box of articles made at a recent work night will be sent to Korea.

A committee composed of Mrs. Marian Sperling, Miss Josephine Ruth, Mrs. Roland Schaber and Mrs. W. C. Call was appointed for the Mother-Daughter party in May. Mrs. George Steinman and Mrs. Earl Miller were guests. Hostesses were Mrs. Sperling, Miss Bender, Mrs. Loren Starner and Mrs. Call.

A play, "Money Speaks In Many Languages," was presented at a meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church Thursday in recreation room of the church. The play was directed by Miss Mabel Wheatley, program chairman, and taking part were Mrs. Paul Bachman, Mrs. C. W. Smoot, Mrs. Leonard Young, Mrs. Grover C. Snyder, Mrs. Ralph Burton, Mrs. James Dickson, Mrs. Robert Glosser, Mrs. Clark Fouts, Mrs. Howard Cary, Mrs. Lloyd Calhoun nad Mrs. Ted Snow.

The program hour was in charge of Mrs. John P. Courtright, secretary of social education and action, who gave a map study showing the location of Marion churches, also the sections of the city in which there is a high percentage of juvenile deliquency. Mrs. Chester C. Roberts, associate leader, discussed the causes of injustice and unequality in the community. To close the program Dr. Allen Schmuller, psychologist in the public schools, gave a talk on his work among the youth of Marion.

Mrs. Ralph Helschman, president, was in charge of a business session. Mrs. Gerald Jennings, played two piano numbers. Tea followed the program with members of Circle Three as hostesses.

$50 Loss Reported In City Barn Blaze

A total estimated loss of $90 was marked up in two of three fires reported today by city firemen.

An overheated furnace at the city barn on Owens St. was blamed for a fire which caused some $50 damage. Firemen from Central and Mark St. stations answered the alarm at 7:34 p.m. Tuesday. They said the fire burned a hole in the roof of the building around the furnace chimney. There was no other damage reported to the building.

A cigaret accidentally dropped on the seat caused some $40 damage to a car owned by Carl Foster of 516 Park St. Firemen from the Mark St. station answered the alarm at 9:04 p.m. Tuesday and reported the front seat of the car was burned. The car was parked in front of 509 Park St.

Only other alarm answered was to a grass fire at 3:17 p.m. Tuesday on a lot owned by Harvey Fout on Bryant St. Firemen from the Mark St. station who answered the call reported no loss from the fire.

LOVE SONG OVER. Jackie Loughery, "Miss U.S.A." in the 1952 "Miss Universe" competition, smiles in Los Angeles on receiving divorce from singer Guy Mitchell. Terms: $1,500 a month alimony for three years and $20,000 in settlement of community property rights. She told the court she was a "lonely girl . . . unloved and unwanted."

Lodge Activities

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Geran-Thomas Post 3313, VFW, entertained District 10 in Marion Sunday afternoon at the Elks Hall on S. State St. Mrs. Ann Phillips of Galion presided. Representatives were present also from Bucyrus, Shelby, Ashland, Mansfield, and Upper Sandusky. Mrs. Helen Burklew is president of the hostess organization.

The Upper Sandusky auxiliary had charge of draping the charter and the Mansfield Auxiliary presented the memorial services. A basket of flowers was sent to Mrs. Pauline Barnhouse of Marion who has been ill for some time. It was announced that on Memorial Day the district group will place a wreath, accompanied by presentation of the colors, at Mohican State Park. A caravan will go to Chillicothe in May on National Hospital Day to the veterans hospital there. A special prize was won by Mrs. Edna McAdams of Bucyrus.

A stunt was planned for district "fun night" to be held March 10 at Leesville when Mary A. Canfield Daughters of America, met recently. The T. and O. Club will have a St. Patrick's Day party Tuesday, March 16, in the home service center of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. An announcement was made that reservations for the past councilors' anniversary dinner March 23 at Hotel Harding will be taken at the next lodge meeting. A quarterly birthday dinner will be held at the next meeting.

—:—

Two candidates were obligated and one application was accepted at a meeting of the Protected Home Circle Friday evening in the Odd Fellows Hall. Mrs. Mary Fout presided. Guests included Mrs. Thomas Parris of Springfield, state manager, and Mrs. T. F. Parris of Youngstown. A special prize was won by Roger Parris of Springfield. Readings were given by several of the members. A special St. Patrick's Day program will be presented at the next meeting, March 19. Refreshments will be served by the social committee.

Types of partial deafness vary, some causing failure to hear low tones, others failure to hear high tones.

MEEKER SERVICES

A week of Spiritual Life services at the Meeker Methodist Church is set to open on Sunday night. Special groups are to have charge of the devotional period of each of the public services, the pastor, Rev. O. W. Robbins, announced. The meetings will continue through March 21, and the time of the nightly services will be 8 o'clock.

Gas Supply Improves

Outlook for Gas Heating In Ohio Believed Better

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chances are good that thousands of Ohioans will be able to install gas furnaces for use next winter.

That's because the gas supply picture appears brighter now than it has since the state utilities commission in the fall of 1947 began telling gas companies how many new home heating customers they could add.

Since then various commission orders have been issued. Some stopped all installations, others relaxed the "freeze." The last order permitted 20 thousand installations, half right after the fall gas hearing and half later on.

The commission holds two hearings a year to determine how the amount of gas the companies expect to have balances with the amount their present and potential residential, industrial and commercial customers need.

The spring hearing will begin April 1, two weeks earlier than usual. The date was changed at the request of building contractors who said it is important to them to know as soon as posible whether they can install gas furnaces in houses they are building.

Right now it appears they will be able to install many, but as Commission Member Ray Martin puts it, "everyone has his fingers crossed."

The prediction is based on two things: The amount of gas that can be stored in old gas wells in Ohio and completion of the big gulf interstate gas line which will bring more gas to Ohio from the southwest.

Martin says construction of the line is running two months ahead of schedule now.

State Official Suspects Price Manipulation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the National Assn. of State Purchasing Officials has offered to aid the national investigation of rising coffee prices.

John W. Bush, Ohio state purchasing agent and president of the national association, made the offer in a letter to President Eisenhower.

Bush estimated members of the association purchased nearly 20 million pounds of coffee a year for the various states.

He said Ohio bought about a million pounds of coffee a year, 65,000 pounds of tea and 50,000 pounds of cocoa. In his letter Brush said:

"It looks like an upward spiral of tea prices is also firmly established and that cocoa prices have already started upward too.

"This seems to offer even more clearly than the coffee price rise the possibility of price manipulation rather than just the simple law of supply and demand."

Bush said Ohio bought its coffee green and roasted and blended it at the state warehouse.

"Even so the price to the institutions is nearing $1 a pound," Bush said.

The purchasing agent said black India tea cost 25¼ cents a pound in 1952. The same tea cost 49 cents a pound for 20,000 pounds two weeks ago, he reported.

"Then I was advised," he added, "that it had advanced an additional 18 cents a pound or more as of last week."

Cocoa prices were not given.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—The body of Mrs. Louella Staats, 52, was found yesterday on the bank of the Ohio River by her husband, William Staats, 60. She had been the object of a wide-spread search since she disappeared from their home, near Point Pleasant, last Friday. Police said she apparently fell in the river.

Rejected Teenager Kills Rival, Wounds Mother of Girl, 17

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (AP)—Police said a rejected boy friend shot and killed his rival for the affections of a pretty teen-ager last night, wounded her mother and then gave himself up.

The shooting occurred at the suburban home of dark-haired, 17-year-old Colette LeFebvre. Her 18-year-old boy friend, Gilles Bourassa, was killed. Her mother, Mrs. Benoit LeFebvre, was shot in the stomach, but hospital authorities said her condition was not serious.

Colette told police Bourassa had been visiting her and was shot as he answered a knock at the door.

Fifteen minutes later, police said, Gerard Abel, 18, walked into the police station and gave himself up.

Colette said she had been going with Gerard, but stopped seeing him about six months ago "because I liked Gilles better."

3 Fisbermen Trapped After Dam's Gates Open

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Officials at Arrowrock Dam opened a floodgate yesterday to release the excess water from recent heavy rains—but they forgot to warn three startled fishermen a few miles down the Boise River.

Walter Collins, Roy Cook and Jess Everson of Boise found themselves suddenly marooned with their autos on an island in the middle of the stream. They had driven there only a few hours earlier.

It took two Ada County sheriff's officers, a crew of workmen and a tractor operator to rescue the autos and the fishermen.

Turkish President Puts Mayor of Dallas on Spot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The mayor of Dallas, banker R. L. Thornton, and President Celal Bayer of Turkey engaged in some lively conversation through an interpreter here on the President's recent visit.

After answering dozens of questions from the Dallas mayor, Bayar finally said he had one to ask.

"If Mayor Thornton asked banker Thornton for a loan, would he get it?"

"No," said Thornton.

"Hah," said Bayar, "that's a sign you are going to run again."

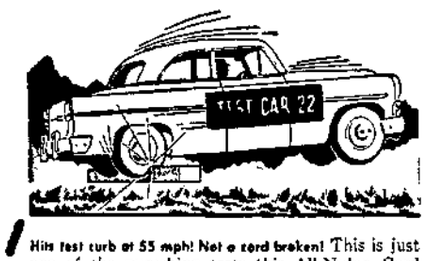
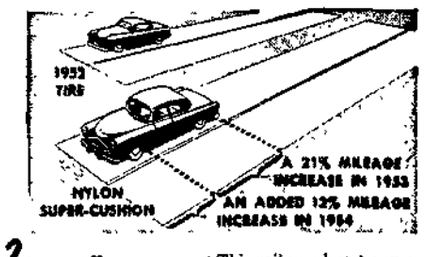
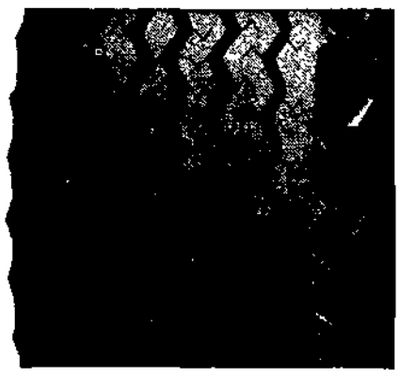
The tire sensation in 1953! Now Goodyear announces still greater improvements!
New 1954 All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushion
All-Nylon Cord! Up to 80% stronger than standard tires!
And now! 3 great 1954 Extras!
✓ Even more mileage than last year!
✓ Much greater skid protection than in 1953!
✓ Quieter ride—less squeal on turns!
COSTS ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN A STANDARD TIRE! NO OTHER TIRE AT OR NEAR ITS PRICE CAN MATCH IT!



1 Hits test curb at 55 mph! Not a cord broken! This is just one of the punishing tests this All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushion has taken! In fact, impact blowouts are almost unheard of with All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushions.



2 Up to 12% more mileage! This mileage boost comes right on the heels of a 21% increase in 1953. Total . . . almost ⅓ more safe mileage than most motorists ever experienced before! That's real money in your pocket in reduced driving costs.


3 Quieter ride! 15% greater traction! That squeal on turns has been practically eliminated by a new anti-vibration tread design. And this new tread has 1806 inches of nonskid edges, 880 deep-cut safety slots for 15% greater skid resistance. You'll get quicker, safer stops, better skid resistance with this new tire.
There's a big difference in Nylon cord! Only Goodyear has Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon!
Nylon is the best tire cord—If the stretch can be controlled. Nylon is naturally stronger, pound for pound, than steel; it makes a lighter weight, cooler running, longer wearing tire. But, unless properly pre-conditioned, Nylon stretches under tension.
To control the stretch in Nylon cord, Goodyear has developed an exclusive process of chemically treating the cord and then putting it through a triple-tempering process involving Tension, Temperature and Time. The result—Goodyear's Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon Cord—the Nylon cord that is fully controlled at its point of maximum strength and resiliency.
Be sure your Nylon cord tires are made with Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon Cord—and that means Goodyear!

Upper Plant Head Injured in Mishap

UPPER SANDUSKY — William S. Appleman, 31, assistant superintendent of the Daybrook Division plant of the L. A. Young Spring & Wire Corp., in Upper Sandusky, was recovering today in Blanchard Valley Hospital, Findlay, from injuries received in a traffic accident which occurred at 6.15 p.m. Saturday, on Route 15 near the Hancock-Wyandot County line.

Thrown clear of the wreckage when his convertible rolled over, Appleman was taken to the Findlay hospital in an unconscious condition. His injuries included a skull fracture, concussion and numerous cuts on the head and face.

Officers said Appleman, traveling west, attempted to pass another westbound car and lost control in a hurried effort to return to the right traffic lane to avoid an approaching car. His car went off the road on the south side then across the road to the other side, turned over and landed right side up but was almost demolished.

Engineers Group Hears Discussion of Welding

A talk on current welding practices highlighted the monthly meeting of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers Monday night in the YMCA.

Howard B. Kerry of the Marion Power Shovel Co. showed and explained pictures of fabrication progress in building lower frame weldments for the largest Marion power shovel machines, and procedures in automatic welding and electric eye controlled flame cutting. His presentation covered welding design, welding electrodes and steels and their application to modern practices.

Twenty engineers attended the dinner meeting. A business session preceded the talk by Kerry.

Woman in Hospital After Auto Mishap

A 70-year-old Marion woman is in "fair" condition in City Hospital today as a result of an accident reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol. City police reported one minor mishap.

According to the state highway patrol, cars driven by Eldon W. Davis, 37, Mt. Gilead and Mrs. Alma A. Miller, 70, of 234 Clover Ave collided just east of town at the intersection of Mt. Vernon Ave. and Clover Ave. at 10:10 p.m. last night.

Mrs. Miller was taken to the hospital in the Boyd ambulance with a concussion and lacerations of the forehead, hand and knee. Patrolmen reported the Davis car was badly damaged, while the Miller vehicle sustained only minor damage.

This was the only accident reported by the state patrol.

One minor, no injury accident was reported on city streets by Marion police.

A car driven by Paul Hichcock, 57, of 335 N. Greenwood St. collided with a parked car in the 400 block on Michigan Ave Tuesday afternoon. Owner of the parked car was Thomas McDaniel of 845 Cheney Ave. Exact time of the accident was not known.

Drowns in Florida

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)—Floyd Leroi Elsas, 51, of Englewood, Ohio, drowned yesterday in Lake Eustis after falling from his boat while its motor was running. Friends said Elsas' son, Floyd Jr., fell from the same boat and drowned in almost the same spot two years ago.

About a third of the area of the United States still is classified as forest.

Alice M. Hane, Marion Social Worker, Dies

Miss Alice Minerva Hane, 82, for many years active in Red Cross and social welfare work of the community, died at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday in her home at 419 E. Church St. She was ill eight years.

Born Feb. 25, 1872, in Marion, she was a daughter of John Jacob Hane who was a banker, and Melissa Amelia Bell Hane, natives of Stark and Erie Counties respectively. Her father was president of the old Farmers and Mechanics Bank on W. Center St. which merged later with the Marion National Bank which he served as president.

Graduated from the old Marion High School, she attended the LaSalle Junior College at Auburnsdale, Mass. She was a member of Epworth Methodist Church.

Honored for her record of long service to the community, the nation, and to the needy abroad throughout her years of Red Cross work and during two wars, she was held in high regard by acquaintances and those with whom she worked as well as by her personal friends. In April, 1942, a testimonial dinner was given for her by the Red Cross board of directors at which time she was presented a silver plaque in recognition of her years of "meritorious service."

In a tribute to her today, Miss Lillian Plack, executive secretary of the Marion Chapter of Red Cross, said "She was always ready and willing to serve when able."

Active in organization of the Red Cross here on April 9, 1917 at the home of Mrs. S. K. Gorham, she worked tirelessly in canteen service for the duration of World War I. Her unit alone, scheduled to administer to the servicemen on trains going through here on Sundays, served 7,842. Following the war, she was made chairman of civilian relief and took part as unit chairman in direction of the fund raising "rollcall" campaigns. In 1933, she was appointed chairman of civilian welfare.

With the Red Cross' program of assistance in disaster areas throughout the world, whenever need arose, she was active locally. In 1923, she was made chairman of the production committee here for relief of the Japanese people at the time of the great earthquake.

MISS ALICE M. HANE
Was Ill Eight Years

She was production service chairman when the government allocated 7,000 yards of materials to the local chapter to be made into garments for the needy.

At the entrance of this country into World War II, she took charge and organized the Red Cross chapter's production service and during the years of 1941 and 1942 was production service chairman.

In addition to her Red Cross interests, she was instrumental in bringing about organization of the welfare service which grew into the present Family Service Society. She was a member for some time of the Salvation Army Board, and of the Marion County Welfare Board, and at the time of her death she was still a member of the Woman's Board of City Hospital.

Surviving are her brother, Henry B. Hane of 750 E. Church St., and her three sisters, Miss Florence A. Hane of 419 E. Church St., Mrs. Orlando S Rapp of 213 S. Greenwood St., and Mrs. Joseph M. Gaites of Hillsboro, O., and niece and nephews. Another brother was the late Walter E. Hane Sr.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon Ave. Rev. Walter C. Eyster will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

A Pint of Blood You Give Helps Someone To Live

Right now blood is needed by thousands of men, women and children for surgery and medical treatment. It is needed, too, to build a national reserve of blood derivatives as "life insurance" for hundreds of thousands in times of disaster. But blood cannot be mined or manufactured. We must give it. And the time to give it is—now!

The Bloodmobile will be at the First Presbyterian Church in Marion today and Thursday. Call the Marion Red Cross Chapter, 2-1653.

Water Pressure Back To Normal After Repair

Water pressure in Marion has returned to normal today after repairmen patched up a break in the 24-inch pipe yesterday.

Water Company manager L. Otis Porter said the break, which caused a shut down of the 24-inch pipe for about 17 hours, has been completely repaired. Expansion and contraction of the pipe caused the break about 1:30 a.m. yesterday.

RED CROSS DRIVE SLATED

UPPER SANDUSKY — A "porch light" drive for Red Cross funds in Upper Sandusky will be staged Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. Residents are asked to turn on their porch lights during those hours so the solicitors may not miss anyone desiring to contribute. The Wyandot County Red Cross campaign goal this year is $7,963.

Beer Drinking TV Ads Target of Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The House of Michigan Legislature has passed a 56-32 a bill to ban the showing of people drinking beer and wine in television advertising. It now goes to the Senate.

Rep. John J. McCune of East Lansing, a Republican who sponsored the bill, said the purpose was to keep children and young people from getting the idea that drinking was socially acceptable. He said it was not intended to end beer and wine advertising on television.

Showing of Religious Movie Slated Thursday

Arrangements have been completed for the showing in Marion Thursday night of "This Gathering Storm," documentary color film on missions, at the Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

The picture, 65 minutes in length, will be shown on a new wide screen and is a production of World Vision, Inc., interdenominational missionary organization headed by Rev. Bob Pierce, minister, missionary and United Nations news correspondent.

Photographed for the narrative were revival services held by Rev. Billy Graham on his visit to Korea and other missionary efforts. There will be no admission charge.

Lumber Dealers Study 'Do-It-Yourself' Plan

A dinner meeting at 7 p.m. last night in the Hotel Harding of the Ohio Retail Lumber Dealers Association, District 11, heard a talk by Forrest Steinman of Bluffton.

Steinman, a lumber dealer, recently completed a vacation tour of lumberyards in Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania. He told the 19 lumbermen present last night about the lumberyard's part in the "do-it-yourself" program. He said dealers had been active in this for 20 years, but doing it without fanfare.

William Hutchman of the Lockwood Lumber Co. presided at the meeting.

3 Galion Residents Held After Brawl at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Three Galion residents were given 30-day sentences in the Crawford County jail here following a fracas in the Plaza Cafe here early Sunday.

John D. Evans and Irwin Murphy, both 21, pleaded guilty to charges of resisting an officer and using abusive language at their arraignments Tuesday before Mayor Frank P. Sitler. Each was fined $100 and costs in addition to the jail sentence.

William Evans, a brother of John, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. He also was fined $100 and costs.

PTA City Unit Okays Juvenile Court Program

Members of the PTA City Council went on record as approving Juvenile Judge Edward Ruzzo's views on juvenile delinquency and traffic at a recent meeting.

The group suggested all available material be sent to Mrs. Russell Bickle, Ohio Congress of Parent and Teachers Legislature chairman, and Mrs. W. C. Storey, Ohio Congress president, asking them to study the material and initiate proper legislation, beginning with emphasis on compulsory driver education at tenth grade level throughout Ohio public schools.

The program for the evening was "Procedures of Juvenile Cases" presented by Judge Ruzzo. Also on the panel were Joe Whisler, director of pupil personnel; Virgil Campbell, juvenile police officer; and Mrs. Max Sechrist, probation officer.

Cecil Gabler, Harding High School principal, told the group of a survey answered by student drivers at Harding. Sugggestions by the students included expanding the driver education program to include more students, organizing auto clubs for student drivers, having more strict traffic legislation, heavier penalties for careless drivers, more difficult drivers test, use of auto governors, having student traffic courts, acquainting parents and students with legal responsibilities, raising the minimum licensing age, having a closer check for mechanical condition of cars, and a program of general safety education.

The business meeting opened with music by the Harding German Band which played four selections. Announcement was made of the Central District Conference to be held in Newark April 21 and that all the schools were going to support the freedom scrolls for radio free Europe. It was voted to award another scholarship in the spring and to help send a school boy patrol to Washington, D.C.

A social hour followed the program with George Washington School in charge of refreshments.

During the 30-minute program, Mrs. Hamblin will prepare her favorite recipes featuring chocolate cake roll.

Harpster Couple Home After Georgia Mishap

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stumbo of near Harpster, injured in an auto accident Feb. 28 in Albany, Ga., have returned home from the Phoebe Putney Memorial Hospital in Albany.

The Stumbos are in good condition now. Mrs. Stumbo suffered a broken arm and leg lacerations while her husband lost all his teeth. Their daughter, Sue Ann, 6, was not injured.

The Stumbos were returning from a Florida vacation when a collision occurred between their car and another automobile.

Republican Women Plan For Rhodes' Visit Here

Plans for a May visit to Marion by gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Marion County Republican Women's Club.

During the luncheon meeting in the West Town Branch of the National City Bank a committee was appointed to make arrangements of Rhodes' visit. Chairman of the committee is Mrs. Cecil Davis. Others working with her are Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. Eugene Moore, Mrs. Lesley Howard and Mrs. Bertha Stewart.

Plans were completed at the meeting for a rummage sale to be held April 12 at the Schneider Sheet Metal Shop, 165 N. Main St. Mrs. Bertha Stewart is in charge of this affair.

Defense Area Districts Get Federal School Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education has announced allocation of $11,545,924 for school construction in areas where school populations have been swollen by defense activities.

The amounts tentatively set aside for Ohio school districts included Jackson city school district, $241,800; Morgan Twp. local school district, Lucasville, $74,750.

WEYGANDT IN HOSPITAL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt, 65, of the Ohio Supreme Court—admitted to White Cross Hospital for treatment of a kidney ailment—is in good condition today, the hospital reported. The chief justice complained of illness yesterday during a court session.

Shower Disrupts Annual Picnic Of Marion Countians in Florida

When Marion Countians set a date for a picnic in Florida from now on, they will consult the weatherman for a bona fide assurance that there are no storms in the offing.

Wednesday, Feb. 24, the date chosen for the fifth annual picnic for residents of Marion County now residing or vacationing in the sunny South, found some 165 persons heading for Lake Maggiore Park near St. Petersburg. It was to be a day of renewing acquaintances and getting the latest word from Ohio. Picnickers came from Clearwater, Bradenton, Tampa and St. Petersburg.

However, the weatherman had other ideas. The food had been prepared, the group comfortably seated at tables laden with delectables, and attenuon focused on the business at hand when out of the somewhere came a 70-mile gale accompanied by rain.

No time was lost gathering up the rain-soaked food and there was a general taking off for home by the now hungry, wet and bedraggled picnickers. They were disappointed, but grateful that there was no serious damage.

An hour later the sun shown and cars filled with Marion Countians swarmed into the park for the afternoon. A business session was held with the president, R. T. Thew, presiding. Officers chosen for next year were Clay Smith, president, A. J. Loudenslager, vice president and Mrs. Clay Smith, secretary. It was voted to hold the 1955 picnic at the same place in February, the date to be set later.

Attending were:

Mrs. Jessie Ansley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Escapees

the sheriff's office, causing considerable damage.

Then the girls removed their shoes and used them to break all the windows in the cells.

They picked up large pieces of the broken glass and threw them out a window. These pieces struck Sheriff Bidwell's car, parked below, causing considerable damage to the paint.

Finally the girls were handcuffed to the cell bars where they could do nothing but scream at the sheriff and the officers. They "used the vilest language I've ever heard," Sheriff Bidwell said.

He called Mrs. Evelyn Ethell, GIS superintendent and told her he wanted the girls taken out of his custody as soon as possible. A short time later the four were taken back to Delaware.

Mrs. Ethell said today the girls were placed in "correctional" cells after their return—and that this would be their punishment.

The "correctional" cells were the same ones which stirred a controversy after a visit there by State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor. He called them "holes", said conditions at the school were "deplorable," and suggested the school inmates were not getting humane treatment.

Inhumane treatment was denied by institution officials.

Annual Police Banquet Scheduled for April 5

The annual banquet of associate members of the Fraternal Order of Police, Marion County Lodge 24, will be held April 5 at the Harding Hotel, according to an announcement today by the banquet committee.

Speaker for the dinner, which last year was attended by more than 200 policemen, their friends and associates, will be Dr. Tennyson Guyer of Findlay. Often called "Ohio's Ambassador of Good Will" he also served as campaign manager for Eighth District Congressman Jackson E. Betts during the last congressional election.

Virgil Campbell, spokesman for the banquet committee, said other details of the banquet will be announced as soon as all arrangements are completed.

In addition to Campbell, other banquet committeemen are Clifford Lester and John Richardson.

ADDRESS CORRECTED

Address of Paul Hitchcock, 57, operator of a filling station at N. Greenwood and E. Farming Sts., was incorrectly reported in a story in Tuesday's Star concerning his arrest on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct. Address which he gave police was 445 Shady Nook which is really the address of his son, Paul Hitchcock Jr. The senior Paul Hitchcock, who pleaded guilty to the charges against him in Municipal Court Tuesday and was fined $25 and costs, resides at 335 N. Greenwood St.

GETS PROBATION

CLEVELAND (AP)—Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee has put William Hinkle, 36, on probation for two years after he pleaded guilty of embezzling $5,200 from the People's Savings Bank in Martins Ferry. Hinkle, a former employe of the bank, was ordered to repay his mother and sister, who mortgaged their property to make restitution to the bank. He is married and has two children.

Taxes

Democrats had been primed to fight on the House floor to limit the extension of present rates on liquor, cigarettes and the other items to one year only, instead of indefinitely as approved by the Ways and Means committee.

But after a two-hour closed caucus controversy yesterday, Republican House members agreed to limit the extensions to one year.

The Ways and Means Committee gave final approval yesterday afternoon to the 875-page tax revision measure. It would provide about $1,397,000,000 in tax cuts the first year for business and individuals, chiefly through a long list of more liberal deductions ranging from allowances for dividend income and depreciation of business plants and equipment, to certain baby sitter expenses and medical costs.

Committee Democrats declared in a minority report on the bill late yesterday that it would bring revenue losses far above those estimated by the Treasury, running up to 3½ or 4 billion dollars a year when the hundreds of changes in the bill reach their full effect.

Democrats praised much of the technical simplification of tax laws but denounced what they called an effort by Republicans to "hoodwink the public" into believing the proposal would benefit the average taxpayer. They said it would provide "a mere pittance" to all but a relative few taxpayers but would give billions in relief to "larger businesses and wealthier individuals."

Republicans, however, in their majority report, insisted,

"This bill is a long overdue reform measure which is vitally necessary regardless of the momentary economic conditions . . . Its passage will lead to increased employment and a higher standard of living."

Benny

Benny played it straight throughout. He smiled weakly and made some attempts at humor, but he seemed obviously nervous with his role as the doting father. He even resisted the temptation to join the orchestra of 10 violins who serenaded the reception with "Love in Bloom."

The wedding brought the biggest star turnout within memory. Two hundred attended the wedding, including George Burns and Gracie Allen, George Montgomery and Dinah Shore, Ann Sothern, Jane Wyman, Bob Hope, Eddie Cantor and the Benny troupe of Dennis Day, Don Wilson, Mel Blanc and Bob Crosby. Only Rochester was absent, being in New York for the

The reception swelled the guest list to 600. Among the celebrants: Tyrone Power and Linda Christian, Esther Williams, Dean Martin, Ann Blyth, Ed Wynn, Joan Bennett and Ethel Merman. The guests were treated to French champagne, vintage 1945, and a buffet dinner which included boned capon, wild rice, beef Stroganoff and caviar. The cake was a five-tiered affair weighing 200 pounds.

Eisenhower

direment of an individual—an obvious reference to McCarthy—were doing the country great damage.

It would be a grave error to split the party apart and go off in different directions, he said. In that course he said great danger lay ahead for the party and the country.

Eisenhower backed up the decision of the Republican National Committee to have Vice President Nixon answer Stevenson's speech on television and radio. The President said he had sat in on a meeting at which that decision was made.

McCarthy has demanded network time for his own answer to Stevenson and has threatened to take to the Federal Communications Commission the decision of CBS and NBC refusing him this time.

The President said he regards the network decisions as fair and just since Stevenson's attack was aimed against the Republicans and there was no question that it was a Democratic campaign speech in the struggle for control of Congress.

The President said he greatly admires Nixon and has great trust and confidence in him. He said Nixon will place before the people the facts as all of those in responsible positions in the Republican Party understand them.

Asked if this meant McCarthy was not to speak for the Republican Party in the campaign, Eisenhower said he doesn't suppose anyone can answer that question. He added that McCarthy is at liberty to say that he represents anyone he chooses to say he speaks for.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall made it clear, however, that Nixon is the official party spokesman in this case, he said.

Asked if he thought the networks were being fair by denying McCarthy free time to reply to Stevenson, Eisenhower said he thought the networks had discharged their responsibility to be impartial and fair.

He went on to say that any political speaker might mention critically the names of 20 or more persons. He said it would be impossible for the networks to give each of them time for rebuttal.

McCarthy called the choice of Nixon to reply for the Republicans excellent. But, after returning here from New York last night, he told reporters he will employ counsel to test whether the networks can deny him free time to reply personally.

Wants Time for All

He said that as he sees it equal free time should be given to the Republican party, to Eisenhower and to him. McCarthy was offered free time, if he desires it, to reply to a CBS-TV program on which commentator Edward R. Murrow said last night the senator repeatedly has stepped over the line between "investigating and persecuting."

The half-hour film and record roundup of McCarthys recent activities ended with Murrow attacking the senator's methods and saying, "This is no time for men who oppose Sen McCarthy's methods to keep silent—or for those who approve."

A CBS spokesman in New York said Murrow was expressing his personal views. Murrow said McCarthy will be given "an opportunity . . . on this program" to reply if he cares to. The senator could not be reached for comment.

On another front the Senate Republican Policy Committee prepared to unveil suggestions it has drawn up for making Senate committee investigations fairer to all.

One member of the policy group said they represented a set of principles being advanced in the hope that at least their substance would be adopted by Senate committees.

Study Undertaken

The policy committee study was undertaken after Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens declared that McCarthy, sitting as a one-man subcommittee, had abused and humiliated an Army general.

McCarthy, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, denied it. In the wake of the clash between the senator and the Army secretary, Eisenhower called for fair play in congressional investigations.

Eternal Politics

By George Sokolsky

I am often told that people are tired of politics, that they are weary of the constant chatter of politicians, that they would prefer to escape from it all. Of course, it is possible to escape from politics by going to one of those Iron Curtain countries where you can get shot for even thinking politically. Hereabouts politics remains a continuing sport.

SOKOLSKY

Every other year somebody comes up for election for federal office and there are always state and local offices to be filled and the excitement is always high.

Now up in Maine which is a kind of solemn state, Robert L. Jones is being pitted against Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in the Republican primaries. Whoever wins the Republican primaries in Maine is likely to be elected, because generally speaking, the Republicans prevail in that state.

Occasionally, they do not and that becomes nationally exciting because the adage that as Maine goes so the country goes, is still believed.

THE REASON anybody runs against the elarned lady is that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith never could quite decide whether she is Republican or Democrat, because she voted her conscience which can be variable. It is therefore believed that there is a fair chance to beat the lady in the primaries, although not a certain one.

Robert Jones comes of French-Canadian and Yankee stock. If elected, he would probably be the first senator of French-Canadian ancestry and in Maine, particularly in the northern end that is politics. At any rate, the potato farmers and the fishermen would take it seriously. He is a graduate of Bates College and has been active in alumni work.

Jones has recently been associated with Sen. Charles Potter of Michigan, who is embarrassed by his running against a colleague so Potter let Jones go, which the latter was going to do anyhow.

This may prove to be more embarrassing to Potter than Sen. Smith's wrath because Jones is a particular favorite of Sen. McCarthy.

IN ILLINOIS where Sen. Paul Douglas, the learned economist runs for re-election as a Democrat, the Republicans think so well of their chances that about seven of them are trying in the primaries. Among them are Gen. Julius Klein, the public relations counsel who is a friend of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Edward A. Hayes who years ago was national commander of the American Legion.

Hayes gained fame by actively opposing the recognition of Soviet Russia in 1933 and, as head of the American Legion going to Franklin D. Roosevelt to lay his opposition on the line.

This was a daring thing to do in the atmosphere of the time and gives Hayes a record of Anti-Stalinism which many a Johnny-come-lately must envy.

Whether the Republicans will win in Illinois or Paul Douglas will keep his seat is for the voters to decide in far off November, but meanwhile there will be an astonishing amount of politics, vituperation excitement and anguish.

Sensitivity there is not likely to be much of for that is a new trait in Washington where many grown men dislike being slapped on their bare wrists.

I do not yet know what is to happen in New Hampshire. It has been suggested that the White House keeper of the gate, Sherman Adams expects to run in the Republican primaries against Sen. Styles Bridges. Adams was governor of New Hampshire before he went to work for the President.

HE HAS RECENTLY made a speech or two to project his personality before the people and he used the term, 'Fear Deal' which I thought was very smart of him but it did not take.

Most Republicans will be very annoyed with Sherman Adams if he tried to oust Styles Bridges who is a very big man in the Senate.

Adams rightly or wrongly is disliked among Republicans because he gets all the blame for everything that goes wrong. If no one else is accounted for, Adams is accused.

He is in the awful position once held by Raymond Moley, Rexford Guy Tugwell, Tommy Corcoran and Harry Hopkins. It was probably true about Hopkins.

As for Adams he would do better if he ran say after 1956 when his virtues can catch up with him and somebody else is the whipping boy.

Well this is politics and make the most of it.

Lenten Meditations

This is one in a series of Lenten meditations prepared by the members of the Marion County Ministerial Association for publication in The Star.

The Suffering Servant

REV. CARL N. LAUER
Pastor of the Church of the Brethren

"Surely He hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows."
—Isaiah 53 1-12

Here seven hundred years before the birth of Jesus Isaiah points with unmistakable clearness to the suffering of Jesus on the cross. The Ethiopian eunuch as he pondered these words was deeply perplexed and many have been similarly perplexed in the generations which followed. But we read (Acts 8 35) that Philip opened his mouth and beginning from the scriptures preached unto him Jesus. This is the key to a fuller understanding of the meaning of this passage from Isaiah.

Here we find the career and spiritual significance of Jesus set forth with clarity and supernatural insight. Let us remember that the New Testament teaches that Christ died for our sins. Paul so declares in the 15th chapter of First Corinthians. Jesus Himself said that His body was to be broken and His blood shed for the remission of sins. In Colossians 1 20 we read that Jesus made peace through the blood of the cross. Peter declares that Christ Bare our sins in His body upon the tree that we having died unto sin might live unto righteousness by whose stripes we are healed.

The death of Christ is known as His vicarious sacrifice or atonement. By vicarious we mean substituted or performed in the place of another. Christ died in the sinner's place. By this atonement Christ made reparation or amends for the injury which man by his sin had done God. He made man one or in agreement with God—atonement or at-one-ment.

As men have looked upon Christ pierced on the cross and have realized that He died and willingly because of their sin and for the purpose of redeeming them from it their will to sin has in countless instances been broken and the fruits of their sin have become repulsive to them.

PRAYER Help us our Father to more fully understand Thy redemptive Love that we may be more willing to live for Thee.

SIRUP PRICE SET

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Maple sirup will cost $6.50 a gallon the same as last year at the Geauga Maple Festival April 2 3 and 4. The festival board setting prices yesterday said a half gallon would cost $3 a quart $1.75 and a pint $1.

Newspaper Route Campaign Pays Off

EASTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — Miss Katherine M. Root's intensive predawn campaign along her newspaper route paid off last night. She was elected selectman defeating Board Chairman Stanley Pacocha 1 989 to 1 864.

Chosen Easthampton's 1953 Woman of the Year, Miss Root delivered a hand written appeal for votes along with the paper to each of her 182 Easthampton customers. Her delivery work starts at 4 30 a.m.

Before she could start getting out the vote here, Miss Root 54 delivered papers by jeep to more than 300 rural customers in surrounding communities.

MORE SEEKING JOBS

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio State Employment Service said today that job seekers outnumber openings in Cleveland, 18-1. Donald P. Smith area director for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said there were now 24 637 applicants for 1 328 jobs. Seekers outnumbered jobs 4 1 in March 1953.

Ex-Socialists Duped

By Victor Riesel

At a preview the other night of an intriguing play, 'The Burning Glass' I ran into the venerable Norman Thomas, revered leader of America's democratic Socialists. I had not the heart then to tell this decent symbol of a dying movement that even its oldest tradition of crusading against the underworld is being betrayed daily by an ernie coalition of ex-Socialists, ex-Communists and ex-convicts.

RIESEL

Mobsters from right out of the old Lepke and Capone mobs are using some former Socialists as fronts. That's as blunt and straight as it can, and should, be put. These ex-Socialists — in New York, Chicago, Detroit and elsewhere — have developed a strange double standard. During the day they front for the goons. At night they make grandiose civil libertarian speeches.

Right at this minute one of this political melange is actually holed up in a New York hotel. Absolutely unbeknown to AFL president George Meany, he is attempting to promote a deal to bring the old waterfront mobs back into the Federation from which they were ousted last September. And he is speaking — without any authority — in the name of AFL leaders.

He had hoped to bring a package deal to the AFL's waterfront 'Administrative Committee' meeting in Washington this week — and he is interlocked with tough crowds reaching into a dozen big cities including Hollywood.

ITS THIS "RESPECTABLE" front for the mobs inside labor which has aroused some Congressmen into a bitter drive to revive the George Bender Sub-Committee probe into rackets. Therefore, on Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, Congressmen Halleck, Martin, McConnell, and Bender will meet to reword the resolution authorizing a probe into the mobs. Then they will again ask the House for an appropriation perhaps not as high as the $100 000 bid rejected two weeks ago.

If FBI agents have not yet searched a house on Horatio Street in the Greenwich Village area of New York, they've overlooked the little known headquarters of a group which is deep in Puerto Rican Nationalist politics. This outfit is mostly non-Puerto Rican. One of its key people served time in 1950 for joining in the plot to seize the Puerto Rican government and murder high insular officials . .

How come the State Dept. just admitted to this country Alvarez Del Vayo, former Foreign Minister of Loyalist Spain in the days when the Soviteers and their secret police wielded enormous power there — while such anti-Communists as novelist Ignace Silone, political expert Boris Souvarine and others can't get into our land?

FOR SOME truth-is stranger than fiction revelations keep your eye on the House Un-American Activities Committee when it gets to Flint, Mich. shortly. The Committee will disclose for the first time how the Communists' colonizing system works.

These 'colonizers" are former college men and women whom the Party ordered out of their homes and professional jobs and placed in factories. One on the lathe or assembly line, these educated cadres even deny they are university people. They let it be known that they're from farms or far-off industrial cities. And they can take leadership easily because they are centrally organized and directed. They are young and usually attractive. They have extra money to spend. And they know all the answers. Just watch!

President Eisenhower may have to make his economic decisions sooner than he thinks. He is still on the side of those of his experts who tell him that unemployment — now about 3 750 000 — will recede in a month. The unhappy facts are that two tell-tale industries are brutally hit.

National soft coal production for the last week in February was down to 6 760 000 tons. Now hold your hats. This is the lowest end of February production since a similar period — in 1938.

John Lewis recuperating in Florida from fatigue which hits him quickly now that he's past 74 is trying to develop some strategy for his long-delayed contract negotiations with the stricken coal field operators.

THE OTHER SLIDING industry is steel. Next week it will produce less than 70 per cent of capacity. It is expected to go off even more — meaning that the steel industry too will be plummeting down to the level of the Thirties just before the World War II boom hit.

Point is that this may complicate the coming negotiations between David McDonald's United Steelworkers Union and the industry. These sessions are scheduled to begin next month. Steel executives are now planning to be firmer than they first expected to be.

McDonald wants a wage increase or a good guaranteed annual wage and the union shop.

The industry is set to buck him on all three demands. So for the first time there is possibility of a national steel strike. Since President Eisenhower unlike Harry Truman is now opposed to seizing mills it could be a very bitter battle lasting through the winter.

Nation Press Club waiters had better not spill soup on two of the newsest members. They're George Meany and Bill Schnitzler president and secretary of the AFL.

Japanese Wives

By Relman Morin

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — In northern Japan the other day I watched an American sergeant board a train followed by a pretty Japanese girl.

She was lugging a clumsy bundle. His hands were empty. There was a seat near the door and the sergeant indicated she should take it. She hesitated, glancing around the car. Then she spotted another seat up ahead, and went there, still wrestling with the bundle.

From time to time, as the train rumbled along she turned to look at the sergeant. He fell asleep after a while and presently she came down the aisle loosened his neck tie and unbuttoned his collar. He smiled through the drowsiness.

I thought of the axiom coined long ago by white men who live in the Orient. "The formula for happiness is to have an American-style house a Chinese cook and a Japanese wife."

THERE IS SOME disagreement about the first two points but you seldom hear a dissenting vote on the third. The sergeant smiling in his sleep looked like an example.

The figure for marriages between American soldiers and Japanese women is I am told somewhere around 20 000 since the occupation began. Moreover any number of GIs told me they would prefer to take a Japanese girl to the movies than date 'the round eyes' as they call American girls.

This naturally infuriates the American young ladies although asks little else the reason is not far to seek.

By and large the American male is the most woman-pecked figure in the world. His women, by some alchemy or prestidigitation have convinced him he is lucky to get a date and that they are doing him a great favor when they agree to marry him.

Thereafter quite probably he will get his own breakfast, press his own pants help with the housework and hand over his paycheck without question. If he wants a night out with the boys he probably will have to fight for it.

Vice versa the Japanese woman is the most man-dominated figure in the world.

SHE CONSIDERED herself very fortunate indeed to have a home and husband. In the pattern of marriage she asks very little expects to give a great deal.

When the master comes home from the office she meets him with a low floor-touching bow at the front door. She removes his shoes takes his coat and hat runs for his kimono assures him his bath is ready and dinner will be waiting whenever he wants.

If he should decide to go somewhere alone after dinner she will ask for no explanations no matter what time or in what condition he may return. There is no furtive searching for lipstick on his collar.

It is a very high compliment and a sign of great affection if a Japanese wife simply says of her husband 'he is kind to me.' She

They had a lot of fun in Tokyo the other day with a panel type radio program on which four wives answered questions about life at home. None for example said they ever asked hubby to stop for lamb chops on his way home from work. That's a woman's job.

ONE SAID SHE had asked her husband to help with the housework but added 'He was so clumsy at it that I felt sorry for him and told him to stop."

In short the Japanese woman and the American man are apt and the American man are opposite poles from each other in the pattern of courtship and marriage. No wonder each is surprised and delighted when they meet.

And where in which country is the greatest domestic happiness? Nobody can say.

That sergeant however looked mighty pleased with the situation.

Ohio Will Rent Equipment for Turnpike Toll

Commission Accepts IBM Corporation Bid For Automatic Device

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Automatic equipment to figure tolls on Ohio's Northern Turnpike will be rented, not bought, the Ohio Turnpike Commission has decided.

The commission yesterday awarded the rental and maintainence contract for the equipment to International Business Machines Corp. of New York City. The firm proposed to charge $35,570 a month for the rental and service, or a total of $426,840 a year.

Only one other company offered a rental and maintenance contract. Remington Rand, Inc. of New York City bid $64,888 a month for the service.

The commission said the equipment will be installed by Sept. 15, 1955, some two weeks before the entire 241-mile turnpike is scheduled to open. A 22-mile stretch at the Pennsylvania end is due to open next Dec. 1.

The commission decided to install the automatic equipment to eliminate possible human errors. The electronic devices would eliminate revenue losses due to fraud by either toll collectors or drivers.

The equipment would weigh and record the exact weight of trucks.

Several court cases involving the turnpike will come up in the Ohio Supreme Court this month, commission members were notified.

They include a court action in which the commission seeks to compel Elyria to go along with plans to route the turnpike through that city. The case will be heard March 24.

The next day the case of a landowner who questions the commission's right to prevent him from allowing billboards on property near the turnpike will be heard.

The commission also selected a 10-acre site at Strongsville in Cuyahoga County for its turnpike administration building.

AFTER ARRAIGNMENT IN CONGRESS SHOOTING. Puerto Rican nationalists pose at federal courthouse in Washington after arraignment in the House of Representatives shooting in which five lawmakers were wounded. Left to right: Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25; Andres Figuero Cordero, 29; Lolita Lebron, 34, self-proclaimed leader of the group, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28, all of New York City. U. S. District Judge James W. Morris entered pleas of innocent for them to the charges of felonious assault with intent to kill.

Pastor Scoffs at Report Of Hollywood Sinfulness

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—A pastor who preached there for 12 years scoffed at reports of Hollywood's sinfulness.

"Hollywood," said the Rev. Louis H. Evans, a Presbyterian minister, "has more spiritual zip than any place I know."

Evans was a speaker at Oklahoma A&M's three-day observance of Religious Emphasis Week.

Sheriff Convinced Inmates Cheating TV Meter in Jail

SEATTLE (AP)—"Some of those guys in there are crooks," Sheriff Harlan Callahan said today of the prisoners in his jail with a rueful wag of his head.

He reached the conclusion in an experiment by which jail prisoners were allowed to have television. They paid for it by inserting slugs in a meter. The slugs were okay; they are purchased for 25 cents each by the prisoners from their own funds kept for them by the sheriff.

What hurt Callahan was that some of the inmates were using the slugs over and over again. He said they would lower a coin into the meter and then, using wire pulled from jail brooms, bring them up again for re-use.

The meters have been moved outside the cells and now are fed by turnkeys. The television stays keeps the prisoners quiet and docile, Callahan reported.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight-year-old David Tipton, who ran from behind a parked truck and was struck by a car last night, died early today at General Hospital.

Pastor Has Quick Reply

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Bill Harding, Sunday school teacher here at the University Presbyterian Church, was stumped when a high schooler asked about that Bible phrase, "the quick and the dead."

But the pastor, the Rev. William M. Logan, came to Harding's aid quickly.

"There are just two classes of pedestrians," Logan said, "the quick and the dead."

Many Big Names Gone

Progress Takes High Toll Among Industrial Giants

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Getting on top of the American corporate heap is more likely to make you a nice target for competitors than to give you a permanent deed to the place.

Two-thirds of those on the list of the 100 largest industrial corporations 45 years ago are missing from today's top 100.

The swift pace of American business competition has winded them. And it goes on taking its toll year by year, as the top 100 shift regularly.

Some of these 1909 industrial giants have gone out of business. Others have been swallowed up in mergers. But most have just fallen behind because other corporations were growing faster, the New York Stock Exchange points out in the March issue of its magazine, the Exchange, out today.

New inventions, new methods new tastes of the American consumer has cut them out of the business herd. And around the corner is the atomic age, waiting to beget new industries.

The biggest surprise perhaps is not in the names of the 36 corporations that are still among the leaders after 45 years, but in the names of a latter-day giants who weren't numbered with the great in 1909. In them you'll find a short history, in part at least, of what has been happening to the American scene.

General Motors, now atop the industrial corporate heap, was only a year old in 1909. Ford, only a few years older, wasn't among the elite either. Only one rubber company and three oil companies place on both the early and current lists.

The age of motors, gasoline and tires has changed the industrial scene.

Chemical companies have come to the fore in recent years in like manner. Du Pont is the only present-day leader to make the top 100 in 1909. And much of its eminence now is due to products unheard of, or even undreamed of, in the earlier period.

Leadership mortality among the industrial giants over the years, according to the Brookings Institution, is due mainly to "the pressure toward innovation in product and market development."

Here are the 36 durable leaders among the nation's 100 largest:

Allied Chemical, Allis-Chalmers, American Can, American Car & Foundry, American Smelting & Refining, American Tobacco, Anaconda Copper, Armour,

Bethlehem Steel, Borden, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, International Harvested, International Nickel, International Paper,

Jones & Laughlin, National Biscuit, National Distillers, National Lead, Phelps Dodge, Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Pullman.

Republic Steel, Singer Mfg. Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil (NJ), Swift, Texas Co., Tide Water Associated Oil, United Fruit, U. S. Rubber, U. S. Steel, Western Electric, Westinghouse Electric.

About 44 per cent of British women workers are married.

Decline Reported In City Fire Loss

The number of fires and total estimated loss decreased in Marion during February, according to a monthly report of department activities issued today by Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt.

There were 36 alarms answered by the department with loss estimated at $920 compared with a loss of $1,941 estimated in 37 fires during January, Chief Sifritt reported.

To fight the fires, a total of 2,540 feet of one-inch hose were used along with brooms twice, garden hose once, and extinguishers twice. Eighty feet of ladders were raised.

Cost of department operations was $13,021 with the major of $12,142.50 paid for salaries and the balance going for various other costs and supplies.

Rain Needed in County for Big Grain Harvest

Crop Outlook Good if Dry Season Ends

Farmers in County Look for Price Drop On Meat and Poultry

Marion County farmers predict 1954 will bring lower prices on hogs, beef and poultry and higher productivity in corn, wheat, oats and other grain products.

The farmers' prediction on higher grain production was qualified with an "if," — if more moisture is forthcoming. The outlook for lower hog, beef and poultry prices was attributed to a great increase in the number of producers.

"Many more sows were bred last year and the increase in beef, cows and cattle was also great," County Agricultural Extension agent Arthur Smith said. The beef price has been low in relation to hogs and is apt to stay about the same."

Million-Head Increase

As of January 1, the supply of dairy and beef-cattle has increased about one million head in the last year, Smith said.

Heavy consumption of eggs since World War II has held up, leading farmers to increase the size of their flocks considerably. There was a heavy production of eggs last fall and this winter and with this large supply available, prices are expected to go down.

Fertility in the soil is higher and this year could be expectionally good for grain, if sufficient moisture comes.

More Rain Needed

The farmers' concern for more water can be summed up in the following statements of Marion County farmers:

"That snow we had last week was a great help but we'll need a lot more rain for the summer months."

"The snow helped fill some of the wells which needed water. Lots of supplies were so low the farmers had to haul in water.

"My pond was way low till that snow. We still need some good rains to bring it up to normal."

Early Plowing

Unusually warm weather this winter has led to heavy winter plowing in preparation for planting corn and oats. However, the farmers are fearful of a zero snap ruining the crop if they plant too early.

Many meadows will have to be re-seeded this summer since last year's were poor. The dry weather was blamed for the poor growing season.

Ohio State University Agricultural Extension economists summarize the price situation as follows:

"Farm prices dropped slightly in February. They were 258 per cent of the 1910 to 1914 average compared with 259 per cent in January and 264 per cent in Feb. 1953.

"Prices paid by farmers stayed the same in February as month earlier (282 per cent of 1910-14 period). Parity ratio for all farm products averaged 91 in February, 92 in January and 94 a year ago.

"Corn support prices will average around $1.58 per bushel in commercial area for those who stay within allotments. Support price will be around $1.20 per bushel for those in non-commercial counties."

Agricultural exports in the last six months were averaging about one per cent higher than last year, GSU reported. Cotton, tobacco, wheat and flour were the most important exports.

The CCC price support program from July through Dec. 1953 showed a net loss of $116 million largely realized on disposition of butter, dried milk, winter cover crop seeds, corn, wheat and peanuts. (For the year ending June 30, 1953, one loss totalled $61 million.)

6 County Farmers Join Butterfat Club

Six Marion County farmers have been elected to the 3,000 Pound Butterfat Club, the Marion County Agricultural Extension Service said today.

Sponsored by the Ohio Dairyman's Association with cooperation from Ohio State University, the club is composed of farmers whose cows have produced 3,000 pounds of butterfat during a test period. The period usually runs about seven years.

The farmers who will receive certificates of membership are: Z. C. Kline, Pleasant Township, three Holsteins; Richard Cusick, Pleasant Township, one Holstein; Paul Lawrence and Sons, Claridon Township; five Holsteins and a Guernsey; W. R. Brooks, Kirkpatrick Township, two Holsteins; and R. W. Zieg, Pleasant Township, one Ayrshire.

Kline had one Holstein and Zieg had one Ayrshire over 4,000 pounds.

County Poultry Farm Among Leaders

By FRED THOMAS

Ever since he was a kid on a small farm west of Green Camp, Ed Carey has liked to work with chickens. There were the usual variety of animals on his mother and dad's farm, cows, hogs and others, but Ed always had his eye on the 50-odd pullets.

Today Ed is still on the farm west of Green Camp. And he's still got his eye on the chickens—18,500 breeders and an innumerable number of chicks. His is now one of the largest poultry farms in this area.

Along the way Ed has dropped off the usual assortment of farm animals. However, he had picked up four other farms, plenty of chickens and a host of prizes from poultry contests all over the country.

IT'S BEEN 36 YEARS since he decided to specialize in poultry and it looks like he's going to stay with the chickens. At present he's the No. 3 ranking man in the United States in the California Poultry Improvement contest.

Besides Ed, it has taken 89 representatives of the Carey Farms to win that No. 3 ranking. Fourteen of the representatives are farm employes while the other 75 are baby chicks. The chicks are in Modesto, Calif., right now, trying to keep Ed Carey's farms near the top of the list as having the most profitable pullets in the country.

How did the Carey chicks get that rating? Here's the story:

EVERY YEAR the California Poultry Improvement Commission holds a contest for chicken breeders to determine the breed lines which result in the most profit for the farmers. County agricultural agents take a random sample of the contestant's day - old chicks, and send them to California.

ONE OF THE LARGEST POULTRY farms in this area is Carey Farms, four miles west of Green Camp. Started 36 years ago with 50 pullets, Carey Farms now produces about 700,000 chicks a year and sells them in 20 states.

UPPER RIGHT: Carey inspects one of 3,000 hens in his brooder house 150 feet long and 40 feet wide.

LOWER: Ed Heiser, an employe of Carey Farms, cases eggs as they come off the grading table.

There they are raised for a year and expenses are recorded.

Then they are killed, dressed and marketed. The price of the dressed bird and any eggs they have produced is deducted from the expenses to arrive at an average profit figure for each chicken. The group with the highest profit is the winner.

Carey's white leghorns have never finished below 15th, in four years of competition, and at present he ranks third behind a California and a Washington entry.

Income over feed cost for Carey's leghorns is $2.20 per bird at present while the first-ranked entry is $2.35 and the second $2.23.

In 1952, Carey's pullets finished second in the contest.

More honors may be forthcoming for the Carey chickens for he has just entered another poultry contest, sponsored by Cornell University. The Cornell contest differs from the California one in that eggs, not baby chicks, are sent to be studied.

Carey's farms now include 570 acres and 16 main buildings. Three of the farms are for brooding and raising the pullets and two for mature stock. And more buildings may be needed soon for Carey estimates he'll produce more chicks this year than ever before.

Last year, about 700,000 were produced while this year's figure may top 750,000. This increase is possible through lengthening the laying season from three to five months. Formerly, most of the chicks were produced from February through April but this year production started in December and may continue into June.

Carey says that credit for much of his farms' tremendous output goes to mechanized equipment.

"One man today can handle far more birds than before because of these labor-saving devices," he said. "Probably twice as many chicks can be produced today as 25 years ago."

Today's poultry farming, at least on the Carey farms, differs from the old days in that it is much more specialized. Instead of scattered small colonies, Carey has one centrally-heated building to house his flock.

Carey chicks are sent to about 20 states and as far away as Miami, Fla. and New York. A breakdown of the five Carey farms shows this setup:

Farm No. 1 contains 11,000 breeders and has a new hatchery with a 171,000 egg capacity. On its 150 acres most of the pedigree and trapnesting work is done

Farm No. 2, containing 7,000 breeders, also is used to range growing pullets. General farming is done on 29 acres. Farm No. 3's 204 acres includes pasture fields for 10,000 pullets and a separate field for ranging 5,000 pedigree breeding cockerels.

No. 4 is devoted to brooding about 23,000 chicks annually. Some 10,000 pullets are reared here each year. No. 5 consists of 75 acres of general farm land.

However, the farm actually is not in as bad a poultry rut as one might expect, Ed points out.

"We have one cow, too," he said "Of course it's used for home consumption only."

Ground Water Recharge Rate Report Given

Coshocton Soil Study Shows Amount Varies With Cover of Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ground water was recharged at the rate of 10 inches per year on grassland and 5 inches per year on cornland at the Coshocton Soil and Water Conservation Research Station, Lloyd Harrold, project supervisor, has announced.

"However, good plant cover sometimes decreases ground water recharge, he added. Percolation from permanent deep-rooted grasses and legumes has been observed to be about six inches less per year than that from good bluegrass. In this case the records show the deep-rooted plants used more soil water. That decreased the amount available for percolation to ground water.

The data Harrold presented was obtained from lysimeters. They are blocks of undistrubed soil 8 feet deep, with special devices to measure rainfall and dew falling on the soil, water run-off and percolation of water through the soil

Records of stream flow can in some instances be used to measure changes in ground water storage, he continued. Where nearly all the flow of a stream is supplied from ground water sources, increases or decreases in ground water storage usually result in similar changes in stream flow.

Marion County Farmers To Attend Feeder Tour

About 50 Marion County farmers are expected to attend the first county beef feeder tour March 12.

A study of feed operations at four county farms, a talk by James Warner, Ohio State University Extension specialist, refreshments and a discussion will make up the program.

Farms to be visited on the tour include Francis Gruber's cattle farm, State Route 98 north of State Route 95; Walter Mautz, State Route 98, north of County Road 148; H. H. Beringer, State Route 98, and Paul Almendinger, County Road 123.

The group will meet at the Trinity Lutheran Church, County Road 123 and County Road 107. Warner will discuss feeding and this year's outlook and refreshments will be served.

Program of Songs, Readings Is Given By Pomona Grange

Salt Rock and Grand Prairie Granges presented the literary program when Marion County Pomona Grange met Saturday night at the Progressive Grange Hall.

In charge of Mrs. Ralph Williams, Pomona lecturer, the program included group singing; instrumental music by a trio composed of Jane Ann Loudenslager and Barbara and Sally Myers from Salt Rock Grange; and a humerous reading, "When Ma Ups Her Hair" by Emile Pride of Grand Prairie Grange.

Mrs. Howard Hinamon showed pictures of the Hinamon's recent trip to Canada. A covered dish supper was served by a committee from the host grange.

Twelve subordinate Granges gave reports and listings of "Safety Hazards" in the county. It is a project of Pomona Grange and includes hazards on the highway, railroad crossings and all cross roads and side roads.

The April Pomona Grange meeting will be held Saturday, April 3, at Kirkpatrick Grange with Bowling Green and Kirkpatrick Granges presenting the program.

Conference on Lawn, Turf Scheduled for OSU

COLUMBUS — Ohio State University and Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station specialists will present the latest turf growing information March 15-16 at the annual lawn and turf conference in Campbell Hall, Ohio State University.

The March 15 program is designed primarily for those interested in fine points of turf care, while general turf seeding and care are March 16 features. Topics include: lawn grass varieties and mixtures, seeding, fertilization, insect and weed control, and care of ornamentals. The conference starts at 9 a.m.

Roman doctors used electric fish of the Mediterranean to give shock treatments for gout and headaches.

Ohio Syrup Production Ranks Third in Nation

COLUMBUS — Ohio ranks third in maple syrup production with a half million dollar crop annually, Forest Dean, extension forester says, Vermont is first and New York second in annual production of the sweet.

Ohio production is concentrated in counties along a diagonal line from Geauga County to Greene County. The heaviest production is in northeastern Ohio.

Geauga County produces half the syrup made by Ohio's 58 maple syrup producing counties each year. In that county, maple syrup production is the fourth highest source of agricultural income.

The average net income per acre is $12 to $15. Labor accounts for 45 per cent of the cost of producing syrup.

BETTING MONEY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—A total of $4,306,065 was bet at Churchill Downs on Kentucky Derby day in 1953. The Downs had an average daily betting volume of $902,352 last spring and $537,459 daily average during the fall meet.

SHEEP SUIT

ABILENE, Kan. (UP)—The wanderings of his sheep cost Don Fullerton $230. Robert L. Schell sued Fullerton for damages to his sand truck in an accident that resulted, he said, when he swerved the vehicle to avoid striking the meandering sheep.

Grant From Swift Co.

Ohio Farm Group Given $12,000 To Study Feed

A study of factors affecting the utilization of feed by cattle and sheep will be aided by a $12,000 research grant from Swift and Company, L L Rummell, Director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, has announced The study has already begun

Covering a period of three years the research funds will enable the Ohio station to investigate further the factors required by rumen microorganisms for cellulose digestion in the 'artificial rumen'

Earlier studies at the Ohio Station showed that microscopic organisms exist in the rumen of cattle which aid in digestion of feeds, particularly hay, grass silage and similar roughages The study is aimed at decreasing beef production costs by utilizing larger quantities of lower quality roughage on the farm In recent experiments an artificial "rumen' was developed in the laboratory to hasten the studies and reduce costs.

ORVILLE G BENTLEY, who will head up the research work says one of objectives of the project will be to evaluate by feeding experiments with growing steers—the importance of feed supplements containing such factors He will attempt to isolate the unknown factor or factors from rumen juice and-or alfalfa leaf meal

Funds previously supplied by Swift and Co have been used to study the effects of feeding poor quality hay on the activity of rumen microorganisms in beef cattle

As a result of this early research, the Ohio station has been able to establish the importance of trace minerals in the rations of steers fed a low quality timothy hay Lack of cobalt especially resulted in decreased vitamin B-12 in the rumen

THE OAES GRANT is one of 17 to be awarded during 1954 by Swift and Company in the agricultural phase of its grant in-aid program for basic scientific research The total appropriation for these grants will exceed $150 000

In issuing the grant Dr Roy C Newton Swift vice president in charge of Research said the findings in all Swift - sponsored research projects are placed entirely in the hands of the universities and colleges "Published results are available to all research workers,' he said

Proposed Farm School For Veterans Called Off

Lack of applicants has cancelled a proposed school program in farming for Marion County Korean War veterans this spring, county superintendent of schools D T Mills has announced

Only three veterans applied for the classes Mills said At least 10 are needed for state approval of the program The program will be started next fall if enough interest is shown he said

A similar program for veterans of World War II has nearly been completed A few veterans are still taking classes at Meeker school, Mills said

Agronomist Ranks Kenland Clover as Best Ohio Variety

COLUMBUS — Kenland is still the best red clover variety for Ohio even though some farmers had failures with it last year extension agronomist D R Dodd says Factors other than variety of seed accounted for many failures last year he added

Dodd said a check of variety test data indicates Kenland is equal to or superior to all other varieties tested in Ohio It yields as well or better produces a better second growth and more plants live through into the second year than for any other variety Third generation Kenland seed doesn't show up as well as newly certified seed he said

Local strains of red clover selected in the same community for many years usually show up well in yield tests in that community Dodd said local selection produces a strain that is particularly well adapted to that community

Pennscott a new variety developed in Pennsylvania has shown up well in recent tests in Ohio However, little or no seed is available

At the time of the Civil War, New York had a population of more than a million, and Philadelphia had 500 000

Marion Police Activities for Month Listed

Investigations of 2,273 complaints of various law violations in Marion resulted in the arrest of 304 persons during February, Police Chief Thomas Coon reported today.

In a monthly summary of department activities, he listed parking, traffic and driving, and drunk violations as the most numerous.

Parking violations totaled 1,958, traffic and driving violations of all types including drunken driving, 153, and drunks, 86.

While no arrests were made for parking violations, 123 persons were charged with road and driving law violations, 39 with traffic and motor law violations, 5 with drunken driving, and 86 with intoxication. Total collected by the traffic bureau on all tickets issued was $875.

Four burglaries marked up during the month brought about the arrest of seven persons but other types of thefts resulted in fewer arrests. A total of 22 complaints of petty larceny resulted in only two arrests while theft of four automobiles resulted in no arrests although all four cars, valued at a total of $3,455, were recovered.

In all types of thefts, police marked up a high percentage of recovery of stolen property. Total valuation of property stolen was $4,454 and $3,896 worth was recovered. Fourteen bicycles worth $405 were reported stolen and 16 worth $370 were recovered.

In the more serious offenses, police arrested one person on a charge of manslaughter by negligence, one on a charge of criminal assault, three on other assault charges, one for weapons carrying, and 12 on gambling charges.

One man was arrested on a forgery charge, 13 on disorderly conduct, one on vagrancy and six on all other types of offenses.

In other activities police investigated 36 juvenile complaints and issued warnings to seven offenders involved while another 11 were cited into Marion County Juvenile Court.

A total of 336 meals were served to city prisoners at a cost of $38.56.

Discussion Meeting Set By Family Service Unit

A "buzz session" on the topic of "Community Teamwork in Helping Families" is being planned for members and friends of the Family Service Society for Monday night, March 29, at the YMCA. Sponsors of the meeting are Mrs. John Waddell, chairman, and members of the interpretation and public relations committee of the society. Moderator for the meeting will be Miss Marjorie Boggs, case consultant of the Cleveland Family Agency.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss and find answers for questions met frequently regarding the purpose and functions of the organization. Among the questions are "with what kind of family problems can the Family Service help?" and "How do you go about telling a person in trouble about the service?"

Serving with Mrs. Waddell are Ellis Oiler, George W. Schertzer, Mrs. Robert Fay, Miss Madge Cooper, Miss Evelyn Kristoff, Robert Byrd and Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig.

TEACHERS VOTED RAISE

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Board of Education at nearby Barberton voted a $200-a-year raise last night for all its public school teachers. The hike will become effective Sept. 1. Base pay for Barberton teachers now ranges from $2,800 to $3,400 annually.

Bar in Detroit Gets Speedy Heave-Ho

DETROIT (AP)—Sam's Bar got the old heave-ho as quickly as a noisy drunk yesterday. A Detroit constable's crew was the bouncer.

Within three hours, the whole shebang was out in the streets—chairs, tables, coolers, beverages and all. The building had been condemned to make way for a civic center.

"Thrown out like a dog," owner Sam Schwartz muttered as the potato chip rack was carted out.

Schwartz said he thought the city had given him another two weeks in which to move. But the city said that he had made a mistake.

He was ordered to vacate. And and when he didn't, the bar got the bounce.

The United States is converting about a million acres of land to residential, commercial and industrial purposes each year.

OSU Schedules Regular Farm, Home Program

Hay Clinic, Dairying, Tips for Housewives Included on Agenda

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A hay clinic, homemaking, milk handling and a talk by the assistant to the U. S. secretary of agriculture will be included on the Farm and Home Week program March 23-26 at Ohio State University.

A quality-hay clinic, March 23, and labor - saving ideas and the impact of bulk milk handling, March 24 highlight the program. Hay Day topics include: relation of hay quality to feed values, place of forage in dairy feeding, modern haymaking methods and a new look at roughage values. A question and answer period will conclude the hay - day program.

Dairy Program

Bulk handling, economic changes in dairy farming, reducing feed costs and chore labor are topics on the dairy program.

Donald Paarlberg, assistant to Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra T. Benson, will speak at 10 a.m., March 25 in University Hall. He will discuss farm programs and government policies that may affect Ohio farm families.

An extensive homemaking program also is planned.

Each day's program offers homemakers help in home furnishing, foods and nutrition, clothing, child care and development, and home management. Several topics are repeated. Each day, however, offers an entirely new set of topics.

Topics for March 23

Some March 23 topics are: curtains for today's homes, color in the home, how to buy children's clothes, dress patterns that flatter, new solutions to old water problems, keeping up-to-date in foods and nutrition, and new trends in child health.

Topics for March 24, include: magic of good lamps, your money's worth in hard-surfaced floor coverings, work counter surfaces, food habits and physical development of school children, spring wardrobes, let's set up a play school, homemade toys and know your fabrics.

The next day's program deals with agricultural policies and public affairs and their effect on Ohio families. Young women and teenagers hold the spotlight on the final program.

"Food Around the World" will be a familiar topic for Greek-born Mrs. Andromache Sismanidis March 24 at Campbell Hall.

Mrs. Sismanidis, nutrition representative for the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations, has done nutrition work in Turkey, Israel, Egypt, Portugal, France, Italy, England, Greece, and the U.S. She will discuss food habits and customs of people in countries in which she has worked.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held quietly steady today with a few divisions managing to advance a little.

A slightly higher start carried through into the early afternoon, but prices were shaved down enough to produce a steady market.

With a few exceptions, prices moved either way only in minor fractions.

The trading pace had a more springly air about it today than yesterday at a rate ahead of yesterday's 1,630,000 shares, a total that is below the daily average so far this year.

Among higher stocks were Kern County Land, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, American Cyanamid, U.S. steel, Studebaker, Douglas Aircraft and Radio Corp.

Marion Profits From Milk Top State Average

Shipments of Local Farmers Earned Less Than Previous Month

Farmers shipping milk to the Marion market in December received more for their milk than the average paid to producers shipping to the 21 principal Ohio milk markets, the Marion County Agricultural Extension Service reports.

Farmers received $4.88 per hundredweight for milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat compared with the average $4.77 paid to producers elsewhere. This price, however, was 9 cents below the November price for Marion shippers and 18 cents below the state average in November.

The 21 principal milk markets in Ohio received 225 million pounds of milk from producers last December, an increase of 14 per cent over December, 1952. The increase was attributed to greater deliveries per producer, the extension service report said

959 Cows on Test

A total of 959 cows were on production test in Marion County in February while there were 848 during the same month a year ago. These cows were from 54 herds, an average of 17.8 cows per herd.

The 632 cows on the dairy herd improvement test averaged 917 pounds of milk and 34 pounds of butterfat per cow. The other 327 cows were on the owner sampler test and produced an average of 830 pounds of milk and 32 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Leaders in the dairy herd improvement report were: William G. Earl, 19 cows, 1,670 pounds of milk per cow, 55 pounds of butterfat per cow; Paul Lawrence and Sons, 39 cows, 1,280 pounds of milk, 46 pounds of butterfat; E. H. Burris, 22 cows, 1,290 pounds of milk, 44 pounds of butterfat; W. R. and H. J. Brooks, 30 cows, 1,240 pounds of milk, 44 pounds of butterfat; and Richard Lawrence, 20 cows, 1,240 pounds of milk, 44 pounds of butterfat.

Owner-Sampler Leaders

Leaders in the owner-sampler report were Weldon McNeal, 8 cows, 1,080 pounds of milk, 43 pounds of butterfat, and Leroy Hinamon, 13 cows, 1,173 pounds of milk, 40 pounds of butterfat.

Lactation report leaders included: Richard Lawrence, 15-year-old Holstein, 16,210 pounds of milk, 583 pounds of butterfat; Paul Lawrence and Sons, 6-year-old Holstein, 16,010 pounds of milk, 551 pounds of butterfat; LeRoy Shroats, 18-year-old Jersey, 9,760 pounds of milk, 522 pounds of butterfat; Edwin Parrott, 5-year-old Brown Swiss, 10,940 pounds of milk, 484 pounds of butterfat; and Paul Lawrence and Sons, 10-year-old Hostein, 15,940 pounds of milk, 480 pounds of butterfat.

BETTER THAN $10

DEERING, N. H. (UP) — Discovery of the battered car of Philip St. Germain of Manchester sent local police in quest of details about "the accident." St. Germain said a garage offered only $10 for the 1938 model vehicle. He and a friend "thought it would be more fun to wreck it," so they showered the car with boulders.

Rural Group Plans Achievement Day

Yearly Program of Home Demonstration Council Slated March 18

Homemaking exhibits, speakers, a chorus, and a movie will highlight Marion County's annual Achievement Day scheduled for March 18 at the First Evangelical and Reformed Church in Marion.

Climax to a year's activities of the Marion County Home Demonstration Council, Achievement Day is expected to draw about 175 women. Starting with registration at 9:30 a.m., the affair will continue throughout the day.

—:—

HERE'S A LOOK at the program:

Following registration, Miss Margaret Huffman, director of christian education at Epworth Methdosit Church, will give devotions. Miss Dorothy Gorby, Marion County home demonstration agent, will give the welcome.

Next on the program will be the musical portion. Community singing, led by Mrs. Le Roy Shroats of Green Camp, will be followed by selections from the Homemakers Chorus. Composed of about 25 Marion County women, the chorus is directed by Mrs. Shroats.

Milan Gorby of the Standard Oil Co. will show a film of "Ohio Oddities," picturing annual special events around the state.

THE LAST EVENT before a luncheon will be recognition of Home Demonstration Council members. Women of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will serve the luncheon.

After lunch, time has been left open for the women to browse through this year's exhibits, which include clothes mending, basket making and re-upholstery. The exhibits, made by home demonstration members throughout the year, will be open all day.

At 1:30 p.m., the program will resume with Miss Helen Strow assistant home demonstration leader, speaking on women's roles in international relationships.

THE AFTERNOON session's main speaker, Miss Madge Cooper of radio station WMRN, will discuss "Spring Fashions and Fabrics."

The day's activities are open to the public. Tickets for the luncheon must be purchased from home demonstration members or at the county extension office before March 15. Program tickets may be secured at the church.

Chairman for the morning program is Mrs. Dan McClaskey of Prospect, vice-president of the county group. Afternoon chairman is Mrs. George Bosley Jr. of Morral, president of the district Home Demonstration Council.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY committees and the duties they are handling are as follows: registration Ralph Lyon. Mrs. S. P. Robertson and Mrs. James Gist; publicity by the Prospect group, Mrs. Robert Isler, Mrs. Carl Russell and Mrs. Roy Grates.

Program by Waldo group composed of Mrs. Lowell Beringer, Mrs. Donald Demorest and Mrs. Dwight Hedges and the Pleasant group of Mrs. Dan McClaskey, Mrs. James Rush and Mrs. John Eichhorn; parcel post by the Laue group, Mrs. Lloyd Williamson, Mrs. George Oberdier and Mrs. Russell Hardin; luncheon by the Grand Prairie group, Mrs. LeRoy Laucher, Mrs. Robert Klatt and Mrs. Vern Lucas; and decorations and favors by the Claridon group Mrs. Hugh Johnston, Mrs. Dale Kimbel and Mrs. John S. Price.

Other Home Demonstration Council members are: Morral, Mrs. George Bosely and Mrs. George Bosely Jr.; Richland, Mrs. Lester Kramer, Mrs. Clifford Harris and Mrs. Harvey Eichhorn; Big Island, Mrs. Grace Boblenz, Mrs. Lois Snare and Mrs. Clarence Gracely; New Bloomington, Mrs. Walter Rothfuss, Mrs. Edwin Morrow and Mrs. Ellsworth Drake.

The next home demonstration activity in Marion will come in May when the local group is host to the district meeting. Members from groups in Wyandot, Logan, Union, Hardin and Morrow counties will attend.

HOME DEMONSTRATION COUNCIL LEADERS make plans for Achievement Day March 18. Left to right are Mrs. Daniel McClaskey, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Lyon, president; and Miss Dorothy Gorby, agent.

Achievement Day Set March 19 in Crawford County

BUCYRUS — Annual Homemakers Achievement Day planned by the Crawford County Home Demonstration Council will be held Friday, March 19, at the Good Hope Lutheran Church Parish House. The sessions will begin at 10 a.m. and continue to 3:30 p.m.

Speaker for the morning session will be Mrs. Jean Grasmuller, home economist of the Westinghouse Corp. at Mansfield. She will speak on "Laundering of the New Miracle Fabrics."

"Are Parents Adults?" will be the topic of Mrs. Mary Lou Pfeiffer's talk in the afternoon. Mrs. Pfeiffer is the womens radio editor of Station WRFD Worthington.

The Crawford County Homemakers' Chorus will appear at both sessions. There will be special musical numbers, skits, and the installation of new council officers.

The committee in charge of the program is Mrs. John Berry, Bucyrus; Mrs. Burton Hoover, Leesville; Mrs. Walter Kalb, Sulphur Springs; and Mrs. Wayne Beam, Lykens.

There will be exhibits of various types of projects carried out in the home demonstration program in the county this year.

VACATION

HOWARD, R. I. (UP)—Rhode Island has some rooms available for occupancy, but few would be interested. State Prison Warden William Kindelan says his prison is only half filled. In fact, he says there are so few prisoners that it is hard to find enough convicts to do routine work.

The Great Republic, listed as the largest clipper ship ever built, was 325 feet long, had four decks, could carry 6,000 tons of cargo and drew 24 feet of water.

Nutritionist Calls Dairy Foods Good For Lenten Meals

COLUMBUS — Eggs, milk, cheese and other dairy products are plentiful protein foods for lenten meals, says Sue Christian, extension nutritionist at Ohio State University.

Potatoes, onions and dry pinto beans head the list of plentiful vegetables. Pinto beans are a good source of vegetable protein. For meat - and - potato eaters, Miss Christian said there should be plenty of reasonably priced beef and good supplies of broiler-fryer chickens in March.

Plentiful fruits such as grapefruit, oranges, pears, raisins and cranberry sauce can form the basis for many tempting salads and desserts, she said. These fruits may be combined or served alone.

Home baking can take encouragement from large supplies of shortenings, she adds. Less expensive eggs and dry milk powder also can cut home baking costs.

Half the U.S. women who reach age 65 this year will live to be 80.

New 4-Plow Tractor Put on Display Here

International Harvester's new 4-plow tractor now is on display at the Campbell Farm Supply Co., 196 S. Prospect St.

The new model contains a new tractor drive unit which boosts pull-power up to 45 per cent. A new power take-off which is completely independent of the tractor's forward motion has also been added.

Hockey Appreciation Program Carded at Coliseum

Barons Tackle Troy Bruins In Attempt To Nail Second

Marion's Barons resume their drive to clinch second spot in the International Hockey League tonight on home ice against the visiting Troy Bruins. Hockey Appreciation Night will be observed

The Baron's second spot roost was endangered last night when the third-place Johnstown Jets notched a 2-1 victory over the cellar-dwelling Milwaukee Cub The win left the Jets only one point behind Marion in the fight for the IHL runner-up position.

Tonight s game will also be a big one for the Bruins. Troy is fighting it out with fifth-place Ft Wayne and sixth - place Grand Rapids for a spot in the IHL playoffs. It is only two points out of the qualifying sixth place position.

Probably the biggest Baron worry will come from Troy's George Edwards He currently is the IHL's sixth best scorer with 31 goals and 55 assists for 86 points

Marion will attempt to offset his scoring with Kenny Schultz and Gordon Veprava. Schultz is the league's third-best scorer with 44 goals and the same number of assists for 88 points while Veprava leads the IHL in goals with 53. His 31 assists give him 84 points and eighth spot in the IHL scoring derby

The Baron's season slate with the Bruins shows a 5-2 mark but in the last meeting at Troy on Feb. 25 at Troy walked off with an 8-5 victory All three home games with the Bruins have resulted in Marion victories. The Barons have outscored the Troy club 35-30 in the seven-game series thus far.

Action will actually get under way tonight at 8 10 p m. when the 20-30 Club takes on the JayCees in the first of three broom-ball games. The Y Men's Club faces the Lions Club between the first and second period while the Rotary Club opposes the Kiwanis Club between the second and third periods. A free skating session for the fans will follow the game

Tonight's game will be the first of three this week which will wind up the Barons' IHL season and prepare them for the coming league play offs

Louisville will be here Friday night before the Barons travel to Grand Rapids Saturday night Johnstown comes into the Coliseum Sunday in the season's

Sycamore Star Wins All-State Basketball Spot

Vaughn Schell, Sycamore's high-scoring forward, was named to a third string berth on this year's All-Ohio Class B high school cage team selected by the International News Service

Only other player from this area named in the statewide poll was Ronnie Kalb, sparkplug of the Sulphur Springs quintet He won honorable mention.

Three players familiar to Marion cage fans nailed down spots on the first team. They included Ralph Elwer of Delphos St Johns, one of St Mary's opponents during the season; Harry Fitzpatrick of Lancaster St Mary and Midway s Dick Bogenrife The first team was rounded out by Wynn Hawkins of New Waterford and Rex Leach of Vienna

Lockland Wayne, which finished at the top of the state's Class B regular season play placed two players on the second team They were Dennis Ballew and Virgil Thompson Barney Altman, another member of the Delphos St Johns squad, also won second-team honors as did Mike Allen of New Lexington St. Aloysius and Jerry Eitzman of Holgate

Benefit Cage Event Scheduled Friday At Pleasant Floor

A basketball jamboree featuring three games has been arranged at Pleasant School Friday

A benefit for the Pleasant School kindergarten, it is a community project sponsored by the Pleasant Mothers Study Club and the Pleasant Jack & Jill Study Club.

Taking part will be five teams from Pleasant and one from Green Camp. Action is scheduled to get under way at 7 30 p m in the Pleasant School auditorium Tickets may be purchased at the door

Games will pit the Shooting Stars, girls 18 to 25 captained by Joan Laucher, against the Pleasant Hot Shots, teen-age girls captained by Barbara and Dee Newell, Green Camp ladies led by Mrs Edward Flach versus the Fighting Felines, Pleasant community women 25 years old and up who are captained by Mrs George Lust; and the Rebels, south Pleasant School district men led by George Wood, against the Yanks, north Pleasant School district men captained by Bob Hinamon

Entertainment between games will include an acrobatic dance by Cindy Stout and a baton twirling act by Susie Eichhorn and Phyllis White

Brown Studies Possible Aides For Grid Staff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Brown, back from a Florida vacation said today he may hire two men to replace Blanton Collier on the Cleveland pro football coaching staff

Brown said he plans to have a man already on his staff take over Collier s duties as defensive backfield chief Two more assistants would then be hired—to scout and to investigate collegiate players Collier left to become head coach at the University of Kentucky

Already hired to replace Weeb Ewbank as tackle coach is Ed Ulinski, a former guard who ended a four-year playing career with the Browns in 1949 Ewbank quit to become head coach for the Baltimore Colts.

Brown also announced two of his draft choices from Texas had signed contracts with the Browns

They were Don Miller, 21, a 195-pound fullback from Southern Methodist, and Chester Lyssy, 21, a 190-defensive back who played at Hardin Simmons Miller was the Browns ninth choice at the National League's draft of college players and Lyssy was a 19th choice

Salary terms were not made public.

Moore Blasts Baker Despite Added Pounds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore said today he felt wonderful" as he carried 190¼ pounds—the greatest fighting weigh of his career—to a slashing non-title victory last night over Bob Baker

Referee Petey Sarron stopped the Miami Beach auditorium battle at 2 08 of the ninth round with Baker reeling under a savage attack by Moore and bleeding from the mouth, nose and cuts over both eyes

Still dreaming of a crack at Rocky Marciano s heavyweight crown, Moore declared he "felt fine ' at 15¼ pounds over the limit for the class he rules.

"If I could get Rocky to fight me," he said, "I d train down some, maybe to around 181 pounds "

Moore s weight, which he carried beautifully, left ringside experts doubtful that he would again be able to make the 175-pound light heavyweight limit without weakening himself badly.

After his last bout in January, when he successfully defended his title against Joey Maxim for the third time in Miami stadium, Archie said he had been forced to starve himself for three days and do four miles of road work the morning before the fight to make 175

The champion s manager, Charley Johnson, insisted that Moore could get down to the light heavyweight limit but said his man wanted to stay in the heavyweight ranks and campaign for Marciano

Joe Schaefer, Miami promoter said after last night's fight that he would guarantee Marciano $250 000 if he would fight Moore here, but the offer was taken lightly in fight circles Manager Al Weill's future plans for Rocky are reported to include no part of the ancient, but powerful, Moore

Style Changes Aid Wehmeier Against Brooks

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla (AP)—Herm Wehmeier, the Cincinnati native who hasn t had a winning season for the Cincinnati Redlegs since 1948 has changed his style of pitching

'Never saw Herm look better,' said Ted Kluszewski in referring to the new form Wehmeier displayed during the 10-0 whitewash of Brooklyn Monday

'He was throwing sidearm instead of coming overhand like he did in the past," big Klu explained "This enabled him to get more of a hop on his fast ball You probably noticed too that of the 10 batters he faced, only one succeeded in hitting the ball into the air That means his fast ball was sinking '

Wehmeier credits Joe Schultz manager of the Redlegs' Tulsa farm club for the pitching style changeover

Last night s exhibition contest with Brooklyn was washed out Today the Redlegs play the Philadelphia Athletics

Conference Slated

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Adams meets today with Dr John L Knight, the president of Baldwin Wallace College, to learn whether he will become the college's new head football coach

BW s trustees and athletic board approved Adams yesterday as a successor for Lou Juillerat, who resigned last month.

118 Squads Still in Running For State High School Title

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Ohio s starting field of 1,068 high school basketball teams was down to 118 today as the result of tournament eliminations, but a flock of talent was still on hand.

Of the 50 Class A survivors of the original 287, 8 teams which have won 21 of the previous 40 state titles are still firing And 6 former one-time victors in Class B are among the 68 left from the huge original contingent of 781

Newark s Wildcats, Class A champs in 1938, 1939 and 1943, bowed out last night before Columbus South, 63-59, and Grand Rapids the 1951 Class B victor, lost to Kalida, 69-54

But the big upset came at Athens in Class A where Gallipolis after losing only one of 21 games was dumped 51-47 by Portsmouth s Trojans who had a 9 9 record for the regular season Portsmouth gets a crack at Greenfield McClain (21-1) tomorrow night

Hamilton Public, rated No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll reached the semi finals of the Cincinnati district meet last night with a 64-44 win over Cincinnati Roger Bacon with center Alex Ellis hitting 22 points for the Big Blue Hamilton with a 19-3 mark meets Cincinnati St Xavier (15-2) tomorrow night

St Xavier moved into the semi-finals with a 54-49 win over Hamilton Catholic, which had a 19-3 mark Also in the Queen City semi-finals are Cincinnati Purcell (17-5) and Cincinnati Western Hills (18-5) The latter nosed out Cincinnati Elder, 61-59 on a 28-point splurge by Ralph Crosthwaite, a 6-foot-7 center

If former championships count for anything most of the talent is centered in the Southwestern district Five of the former champs still in the scrap come from that area, and they ve won 18 titles

They are Dayton Stivers (17-4) with eight championships, Middletown (18-2) with five titles, Hamilton and Springfield Public (11-10) with two each, and Dayton Roosevelt (18-1) with one Other Class A ex-champs still in the race are Mansfield, Zanesville and Portsmouth

Only one of the Southwestern district representatives can emerge for the state championship finals in Cleveland March 26-27 Dayton Roosevelt, Stivers and Middletown are three of the four left in the Dayton district, and Springfield Public is in the Troy meet along with unbeaten Tecumseh (20-0) and rugged Bellefontaine (14-1).

The Class B ex-champions surviving are Huron, the 1917 winner when there were no class distinctions Lancaster St Mary 1930, Glenford 1941 Columbiana 1947, Delphos St John 1949, and Lockland Wayne 1952 Wayne is rated the state s outstanding team in the class this season

The Class A teams have no district play on tap tonight, but will clean up some play in three Northeastern sections to fill the field at Kent

Class B has action charged in 10 district meets tonight The headliners send Holgate (23-0) against Archbold at Whitehouse, Tuscarawas (20-2) against Flushing (22 0) at Brilliant, and Lockland Wayne (20-2) against Lockland (18-3) at Cincinnati.

Charlie Trippi of the Chicago Cardinals, who didn't make a single punt return in 1952 won the National Football League title in 1953 He averaged 11 4 yards per return

Turner and Jones Meet in TV Clash

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia's Gil Turner, a welterweight turned middleweight, may reverse the proceedure if he is upset by Oakland Bobby Jones tonight in their nationally televised 10-round scrap at the arena.

Turner's manager, George Katz, says he's seriously thinking of dropping his tiger back into the 147-pound ranks even if he wins

Katz, of course, is thinking along the lines of welter champ Kid Gavilan winning the middleweight title from Bobo Olson in their coming fight. He reasons that Gavilan will then vacate the welterweight field and that Turner can handle the best of the 147-pound challengers

It's doubtful if Turner could make the weight for a welter title scrap and still retain his fighting edge. The flurry punching Negro has come in as high as 157 pounds in recent fights and seems to be growing all the time. At any rate, the result of tonight's go against the aggressive Jones should help make up Katz' mind

Turner should be at least a 3-1 favorite at 10 p. m fight time His record of 42 wins in 46 fights and his more potent sock figure to be too much for the journeyman fighter from California.

Cats Refuse Chance for NCAA Play

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Only one spot remained to be filled in the round of 16 in the NCAA basketball tourneys today—and that vacancy is the result of one of the most stunning upsets in Big Seven history.

Missouri, with a mediocre 5-6 record in conference play, surged from behind in the third quarter to defeat Dr. Phog Allen's Kansas Jayhawks 76-67 last night and send the loop into a deadlock for first place.

Now both Kansas and Colorado boast 10-2 records and the NCAA representative will be decided by a draw from a hat late today in the Kansas City office of Reeves Peters, executive secretary of the Big Seven.

A question that had been puzzling the experts for the past two weeks also was answered when Kentucky, winner of the Southeastern Conference, withdrew from the NCAA Tournament because its three big stars were ineligible. Without Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos, who are not permitted to perform in NCAA postseason competition because they are graduate students, the Wildcats couldn't hope to win the tournament.

They captured the league crown last night in a playoff with Louisiana State 63-56 and immediately announced they would bypass the NCAA. Louisiana State, which finished the loop season with a 14-0 slate, the same as Kentucky, was given the berth.

Kentucky, No. 1 team in the country, went unbeaten in 25 games, a record achieved by few schools over the years.

One other conference champion was decided when Cornell whipped Princeton 46-44 in a playoff for the Ivy League title. Santa Clara, Penn State, Notre Dame, Bradley and Idaho State gained their round of 16 berths in the tournament.

Cornell had not won an Ivy League championship since 1924. Henry Buncom, a substitute, made just one field goal and that was the winning one, with exactly one second to go.

Santa Clara won a 73-64 victory over Texas Tech, and Idaho State scored a 77-75 triumph over Seattle at Corvallis, Ore. In overtime. This was another major reversal in view of the fact that Seattle had run up a 26-game winning streak since losing its opener.

At Fort Wayne, Ind., Penn State turned back Toledo 62-50 with a late scoring burst and Notre Dame whipped Loyola of the South 80-70 for its 17th straight.

In the single game at Peoria, Bradley rolled over Oklahoma City 61-55 on the strength of Bob Carney's 27 points.

Now here is how the round of 16 shapes up Friday and Saturday:

Navy vs. Cornell and North Carolina State vs. La Salle at Philadelphia.

Penn State vs. LSU and Notre Dame vs. Indiana, at Iowa City.

Bradley vs. Kansas or Colorado and Rice vs. Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, Okla.

Santa Clara vs. Colorado A&M and Idaho State vs. Southern California at Corvallis, Ore.

The National Invitation Tournament in Madison Square Garden went according to form last night as top-seeded Duquesne and Holy Cross gained the semifinal round. The Dukes won a struggle from St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., 69-63, while Holy Cross crushed St. Francis of Brooklyn 93-89.

The lowest batting average ever to win the American League championship was .306 hit by Elmer Flick of the Cleveland Indians in 1905.

Bowling

Mickey Carpenter cracked 213-531 to show the way in the Ladies Commercial League at Marion Recreation Tuesday night. Zoe DeMilt hit 187-520 to challenge her. Other high scores were Sue Disbennett's 197, Virginia Eby's 191, Emma Riddel's 184 and E. Rich's 181. T. Loyer turned in a 6-7-10 split. Team honors went to Mel's Jewelers with 796 and Marion Industries No. 1 with 2281.

P. Miers hit 236 while both Don Owens and Dick Chamberlain hit 600 series for laurels in the Sportsman's League at Palace Recreation. A total of 18 games of 200 or better, 11 of them in the series between Marion Metal and Sunset Tavern were rolled and Jerry Stephenson hit 230. Sunset Tavern's 1006-2882 performance topped the teams.

Craftsman League keglers were paced by Leo Oberlander's 244 and Don Penry's 609. Bill Daugherty came in with a 601. Sixteen games of 200 or more were posted there. Red Top Beer smashed 963-2649 for team honors.

R. Steward's 215 and R. Wells' 585 were tops in the Marion Power Shovel League where nine games of 200 or better were rolled. Draglines copped team honors with 896-2628.

Automotive League bowlers were led by Dick Whaley's 240-572. Lincoln Mercury with 851-2436 paced the teams.

G. Born scattered the pins for a 232-578 in the Marion Industries Second Shift League. Six games of 200 or better were recorded. Nite Hawks with 841 and Racket Squad with 2486 showed the way among the teams.

Rookie Star Runs Wild For Indians

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rookie Rudy Regalado, an infielder by trade and a terrific hitter by the looks of things, is the player they're all talking about in the camp of the Cleveland Indians today.

A student at the University of Southern California, Regalado, 23, is making sure Manager Al Lopez knows he's around.

Yesterday, he connected for two home runs and a pair of singles as the Indians walloped the Chicago Cubs 17-6.

The youngster's bat has been sizzling all spring. In 22 times at bat, he's collected 13 hits for a .591 average. He's hit five homers and batted in 11 runs.

Yet he's had only a year of professional experience. He played most of last season with Reading of the Eastern League, where he batted .325. Then he was sent to Indianapolis.

Actually, he is still on the Indianapolis roster, but if he keeps up his present pace he's a cinch to stick with Cleveland. He has played second and third base.

Meanwhile, the rest of the Cleveland players haven't been twiddling their thumbs. In fact, the Tribe has compiled 64 runs in the four games they've played—or 16 runs per game.

Al Rosen, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1953, chipped in with a bases-loaded homer in yesterday's triumph. Outfielder Dave Philley and Wally Westlake and the first baseman Billy Glynn also hit drives out o fthe park as did Bruce Edwards of the Cubs.

The Indians play the Baltimore Orioles today and that one could develop into a real humdinger.

The Orioles still are unbeaten this spring. They came from behind with a pair of ninth-inning runs yesterday to down the New York Giants 10-9.

Sam Mele and Jim Fridley hit home runs for Baltimore while Hank Thompson hit two and Ray Katt one for the Giants.

Williams Fine After Surgery, Idle 8 Weeks

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — "Remarkably fine" was the doctor's report today on Boston Red Sox star Ted Williams—who underwent an 80-minute operation yesterday on his broken left collarbone.

Dr. Russell F. Sullivan, who wired the $100,000-a-year slugger's collarbone in Santa Maria Hospital, said Williams would be released from the hospital late this week or early next week. The lanky outfielder is keen to head back to Florida, but his doctor isn't in agreement on this.

"I haven't talked with him about it," said Dr. Sullivan, a fishing pal of the 35-year-old star, "but I have no intention of letting him go until we can see some union in the bone."

Dr. Sullivan said Williams should be able to play baseball in eight weeks. The physician said Ted would be able to jog easily within two weeks and should be able to bat and throw "lightly" in six.

Mal Whitfield Enters

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mal Whitfield, twice victor in the Olympics 800-meter race, has entered the Knights of Columbus track meet Friday, March 19, at Cleveland arena. The former Ohio State athlete, who won the 600 at the K. of C. meet last year, has not yet decided whether to defend that title or try in the 1,000.

Badminton Action Slated Saturday at YMCA Gymnasium

The Ohio - West Virginia Area badminton championships will be held at the Marion YMCA Saturday. The best teams from 10 associations in the area will perform on the two YMCA floors.

Jim Hogan, physical director of the Cleveland Central YMCA, and Vern Miller of the local YMCA have been selected as co-chairmen of the event by the Ohio-West Virginia Sport's Festival Committee. They announced this morning that players from Youngstown, Akron, three Association in Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton, Marion, and Huntington, West Va. will begin play about noon. The new YMCA gymnasium floors are able to handle four matches simultaneously.

The badminton championships will be played off with championships being awarded to winners in doubles and singles in both Class A and Class B. Class A players are those having previous tournament experiences and are rated superior in ability by their local committee's. Class B entries need not have any past tourney experience and rated as average or good by badminton standards.

George Wood, Carl Knirk, Ruddy Metzger, Tom Clark, Norm Shapiro, Irv Fireman and Bud Mathiot are entered from the Marion YMCA.

Play will begin at approximately 12 noon and will be continued on four courts throughout the afternoon. The final matches will be played on Saturday evening in the small YMCA gymnasium. Spectators will be admitted without charge during the entire tournament.

County Stadium, home of the Milwaukee Braves, has a seating capacity of 44,091.

Mrs. Paul Minter was in charge of the program for the World Day of Prayer held in the EUB Church Friday afternoon. She was assisted by the presidents of the women's societies of the other churches in the community. These include Mrs. Raymond Harter of the Mt. Zion EUB; Mrs. Lloyd Walter of Benton; Mrs. Frank Bell, Plankton; Miss Alice Bartholomew of Sycamore Evangelical and Reformed; Mrs. Minor Kirby, Sycamore Methodist; and Mrs. Emery Lundy, Belle Vernon. Mrs. Elwood Smith was chorister and Mrs. Frank Harper the pianist.

Miss Chris Ono, a Japanese student at Heidelberg College, was the speaker at the meetings of the junior and senior Youth Fellowship groups of the Sycamore EUB Church Sunday night. A social hour for the senior group and Miss Ono was held at the home of the minister, Rev. Edwin Girswold, after the meeting. The younger members had refreshments in the church dining room.

—:—

Mrs. Mabel Walton was hostess to the Methodist Dorcas Class Friday night with Mrs. Mary Mick and Mrs. Minor Kirby the co-hostesses. The class voted to assist in paying for the new movie projector recently purchased by the church. An auction will be held at the April meeting.

—:—

The Women's Literary Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Mick. Papers were read by Mrs. Minor Kirby for Mrs. Stanley Lee and by Mrs. Horace Wood. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F.M. Smith.

—:—

Mrs. Kenneth Beitler was guest speaker at the meeting of the Methodist Win-One Class Sunday night at the church. She reviewed "The Gift" by Madeleine Nuttall. Mrs. Edgar Wolford and Mrs. Stanley Dutcher were hostesses for the potluck supper preceding the meeting. Plans were completed for serving the dinner for the Pythian Sister inspection on March 9. The class voted to contribute to the purchase price for the movie projector purchased by the church recently.

Mrs. Charlot Prouse was surprised by the Choral Club recently when it honored her birthday. A practice meeting of the club was held at the Prouse home after which a birthday cake and ice cream were served. The birthday cake was baked by the club president, Mrs. Wilma Case. Mrs. Case was assisted by Mrs. Paul Grummel in planning the birthday party.

The Hope Vale Mission Circle of the First Baptist Church entertained the Annie Richards and the Paul Vick Circles recently in the church parlors. The junior department, which has completed a five weeks' course of primary school of mission presented the program. Games were enjoyed in the dining room, and refreshments were served to about 65 members and guests. A missionary theme was carried out in the afternoon meeting and decorations were in keeping with the Mexican atmosphere. Mrs. Claud Swartz showed the film, "Our Newest Neighbors, Spanish Speaking Americans."

The Ladies Aid of the Church of Christ met Thursday at the parsonage home of the pastor, Rev. and Mrs. Dean Speese, with Mrs. Dwight Ridge and Mrs. Anna Ferral as hostesses. Prayer by Mrs. Clinton Salisbury was followed by the business session, when plans were made for a bake sale, March 20, at Marion Winters' and also to entertain the 30 members of the Traveling Choir of the Bible Seminary, Grayson, Ky., at the close of their musical program, March 15, at the church. Mrs. Durwood Shoup conducted the devotions.

—:—

The vice president, Mrs. W. C. Spain, presided at the Thursday night meeting of the Friendly Class of the First Methodist Church held at the home of Mrs. Vada Davis, who was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Spain and Mrs. Jay Evans. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. H. R. Fisher, who read an article by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. "Suppressed Desires" was the response to roll call, answered by 16 members. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Bernice Lehman. Contests were won by Mrs. Lehman and Mrs. Loren Lewis.

To Talk Friday

Philosopher Scheduled To Give Lecture at OWU

MORTIMER J. ADLER

DELAWARE—Mortimer J. Adler, author, philosopher and director of the Institute for Philosophical Research, will talk on "Labor, Leisure and Liberal Education" when he appears on the Ohio Wesleyan University Lecture-Movie Series at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Gray Chapel.

The philosophy department at the university will honor Mr. Adler at a dinner preceding his lecture. Philosophers from Ohio State University, Denison University and Kenyon College have been invited.

Dr. Adler gained his reputation as a writer and educational theorist during his 22 years as professor of the philosophy of law at the University of Chicago.

He and Dr. Robert M. Hutchins developed the Great Books program and Foundation, editing the 54-volume set of "Great Books of the Western World."

In his present capacity as director of the Institute for Philosophical Research at San Francisco, Dr. Adler directs work on a "Synoption," which indexes and cross-indexes all great concepts in the world's thought.

Among the books written by Dr. Adler are Art and Prudence, 1937; What Man Has Made of Man, 1938; St. Thomas and the Gentiles, 1938; How to Read a Book, 1940; Problems for Thomists; The Problems of Species, 1940; a Dialectic of Morals, 1941; and How to Think About War and Peace, 1944.

He also was co-author of Crime, Law, and Social Science, 1933, and Diagammatics, 1935; has been editor of The Great Ideas since 1945, and is a contributor to periodicals.

Ohio Northern Extension Courses Slated in Area

Ten extension courses offered by Ohio Northern University for the spring quarter will open next week in seven centers in this area, including Marion, Marysville, Kenton, Ada, Jackson Center, Lima and Van Wert.

Two classes in Marion will be first aid, taught by Clyde Lamb Monday at 4:30 p.m., and human geography, taught by Dr. David H. Markle, at 7 p.m., both in Harding High School.

Others will be as follows: Marysville, Ohio history taught by Dr. Robert Hilliard, Wednesday, March 17, at 6:45 p.m. in the West School building; Kenton, philesophy of educaion taught by C. C. Robertson, Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Hardin Central School; Ada, woodwork taught by D. R. Lowman Thursday, March 18, at 7 p.m. in Brown building, and ceramics taught by Mrs. Frances Gillen of Paulding, opening on March 25 at 7 p.m. in Presser Hall; Jackson Center, history of German civilization taught by Dr. Mathias Schmitz Monday at 4:45 p.m. in the high school; Lima, New Testament history taught by Marion E. Tinsler, Tuesday at 4:30 p.m., and music education taught by Karl A. Reider at 7:15 p.m. both at the YMCA; Van Wert, descriptive astronomy taught by Ernest Abele Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. in the Lincoln School.

Rotarians Hear Talk by Dayton Hospital Expert

Speaker Gives Address On Trials Confronted By Modern Institutions

John R. Busick, director of public relations at Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton, discussed "Problems in the Modern Hospital" when he spoke at the Marion Rotary Club weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

The Miami Valley Hospital is a newly-completed building and its officials at present are transiering activites from the old hospital to the new.

Special guests of the club for the meeting were members of the board of governors of the new Marion General Hospital. Members of the board present were Mrs. Milton J. Axthelm of Caledonia, Harold J. Grigsby, Edwin L. Mitchell and Felix Reber. Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, administrator of Marion City Hospital, also was present.

Mr. Busick's talk concerning the operation of a hospital was based on three points. First, he explained that since the depression, various hospitalization plans and casualties from World War II have increased tremendously the demand for hospital services. Hospitals, he said, need the confidence of the people to support and carry on their programs.

As his second point, Mr. Busick pointed out that people should take into consideration the actual cost of caring for a patient before they criticize the charge. He said they should realize that a patient receives 24 hours of room service from a professionally trained staff.

The speaker told his audience that the trend of industry has a great effect on current hospital rates. At present, he explained, industry is well paid and in order to keep up with set standards hospitals set up a corresponding rate.

As his third point, Mr. Busick emphasized the great demand which exists for professionally trained personnel.

A visiting Rotarian at the meeting was Walter J. Fry of Upper Sandusky. Other guests were Charles Goff of Dayton, James Miller and Dr. Philip Smith of Marion.

Reporter from St. Mary School English class was Jane Cash.

YOUTH SENTENCED

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Judge Harvey G. Straub yesterday sentenced Donald Toda, 19, to 8 to 50 years in the Ohio Reformatory for kidnaping and raping a 23-year-old woman in Bay View park. Police say Toda, who pleaded guilty, led a trio of youths who were involved in several rapes in the park.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

The End of An Era

Radio station KE2XCC closed down last Saturday and that ends an era. KE2XCC at Alpine, New Jersey, (hereinafter referred to as the Alpine Station), was the first frequency modulation station in this country.

J. CROSBY

When Maj. Edwin H. Armstrong erected it in 1938, it sent cold shivers down a lot of spines. Television was still a gleam in David Sarnoff's eye. Frequency modulation threatened the peace of mind of every broadcaster who was making plenty of money out of amplitude modulation broadcasting (which is ordinary radio broadcasting, as we know it.) FM was not only free of static but it reproduced sounds with a fidelity never dreamed of before.

-:-

OF COURSE, THESE DAYS, when we have Hi-Fi and FM sound transmission on every television set, this is all old hat. But it wasn't old hat in 1938 when this belligerent genius built the Alpine Station.

I remember a demonstration Ed Armstrong ran at Alpine in those days. He invited a lot of newspapermen out and lined them up face to the wall. Then he poured a tumbler of water from one glass to the other. A second or two later the Alpine Station broadcast the sound of a tumbler of water being poured from one glass to the other.

Armstrong defied the newspapermen to tell one sound from the other—the broadcast from the real. Now there is conceivably no more delicate sound on earth than the splash of water passing from one glass to another. But the difference was undetectable. Yet, to my knowledge, not a word appeared in any newspaper about this spectacular demonstration.

ARMSTRONG WAS FOREVER scaring people with his magnificent and terrible inventiveness. When he was in the signal corps in the First World War, he invented the superheterodyne without which modern radio wouldn't be possible. He sold this and another invention and bought RCA stock which made him rich.

But he was forever quarrelling with RCA over the use of his inventions and forever suing them, so he sold his stock for several tons of money because he felt that it put him in a funny position.

He was one inventor who did not live in a garret. Or anyway, it was a terribly luxurious garret. He used to live in River House which, before it was remodeled, was one of the citadels of the very, very rich and the only apartment building I know with its own yacht basin.

-:-

HE TOOK ME ON A TOUR once years ago through what seemed like an acre of corridors in this apartment. But where you expected to find libraries or guest rooms, every chamber was piled with electronic equipment that he was forever fiddling with.

Alpine spent about $1,000,000 broadcasting good music which was relished by many residents in and around metropolitan New York. But it wasn't the music that interested Ed Armstrong. Alpine started and ended its days as an experimental station.

The station and Ed Armstrong endlessly experimented with new transmitters, new uses of FM till it was at Alpine that the Army—and later the Navy and the Marines—decided to adopt FM for mobile communications, for the propagation of ultra-short waves, new ways of relaying radio signals, and most recently the transmission of two programs on the same channel.

His was a restless genius, Armstrong's, perennially dissatisfied with things as they are. And when he plunged to his death Feb. 1, the world lost one of the great theoretical minds of our generation.

Galion Board Votes Programs Be Held On School Grounds

GALION — The Galion Board of Education at its March meeting Monday night, moved to support Superintendent of Schools M. E. Shank and High School Principal E. R. Pickering in requiring that school dances and other school social functions be held on school property. Supt. Shank asked for authorization to do this after he had received a request to hold some affair at another site off of school property.

Plans were furthered to hold evening school and open house at the Junior High and other buildings of the city to enable citizens to see the crowded conditions of the elementary schools. Tentative dates of March 29 and 30 were set for this.

It was decided by the board that the person who rents the concession stand of the field house at Heise Park for the summer be required to pay $10 per month toward electricity, and to provide liability insurance for a period extending from Decoration Day through Labor Day and to pay for repairs for any damages to the building.

The state highway patrol recommended that stricter enforcement by the local police department be secured in regard to the problem of "cowboy" drivers in the school district, in answer to a complaint from the board. Another letter was read from the Galion police department advising that the board make necessary laws regarding automobiles being driven by students.

Patrolmen Stop Three

Three traffic arrests were reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Scheduled to appear in Municipal Court were Frank M. Rush, 57, 193 Franconia Ave., driving left of center; Barbara J. Wynn, 469 W. Columbia St., passing on the yellow line; and John L. Gries, 55, 999 Mt. Vernon Ave., no operator's license.

Marion County Scottish Rite Club Annual Pancake and Sausage Supper, Masonic Temple, Thursday, March 11th, 6:30 p.m. All Scottish Rite Masons cordially invited
Harold J. Grigsby, Pres.
Harold W. Hall, Sec.

Sojourners Lodge No. 653 F. and A. M. Stated meeting and entered apprentice degree Wednesday, March 10th, 7 p.m.
Otus W. Weibel, W. M.
John B. McCurdy, Sec.

All members should be sure to attend the important meeting Wednesday night

Annoyed by signs on many ancient Connecticut houses proclaiming "Washington slept here," one citizen posted a sign: "Washington Would Have Stopped Here If He Had Come This Way."

LEGAL NOTICE

In accordance with Ordinance No. 5629 passed by Marion City Council on February 8, 1954, sealed bids will be received by the Safety-Service Director of the City of Marion, Ohio, at the office of said Director until 12:00 o'clock noon, Wednesday, March 31, 1954, for the furnishing of the following materials to the City of Marion, Ohio, for a period of one year beginning May 1, 1954 and terminating not later than April 30, 1955.

Portland cement in paper bags
Crushed Limestone, various sizes
Concrete, transit mixed
Concrete Sand
Masons' Sand
Bituminous Concrete
Asphalt Patching Material
Traffic Paint
Vitrified Sewer Pipe
Catch Basin Castings, frames and grates
Manhole Castings, frames and lids
Manhole steps
Coal, lump
Coal, stoker.

The materials on which bids are submitted must comply with specifications therefor which are on file in the office of the Safety-Service Director. Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank, in the sum of $100.00 as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into within ten (10) days thereafter. Should any bid be rejected such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon proper execution of the contract.

The Safety-Service Director reserves the right to take such quantities of said materials as may be required by his departments at such times as he may elect and at the prices set forth in the contracts.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Bidders are requested to use bid forms prepared by the City. These forms will be furnished upon application. Bids must be filed in sealed envelopes and plainly marked: "BIDS FOR FURNISHING MATERIALS."

Ralph E. Forrest,
Safety-Service Director.

Seek To Get McCarthy Out of Headlines

GOP Strategists Face Difficult Task

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration may have decided to put a damper on Sen. McCarthy but obliquely and without the party-shattering effect which might come from a head-on, public break.

One of the most highly placed Republicans, with the understanding his name would not be used, has indicated administration strategy is "to get McCarthy out of the headlines and get our story across."

This make take some doing since the Wisconsin Republican has a sharp sense of news and news timing. For instance: if anyone cracks at him, he usually replies at once so the attack and the reply appear at the same time.

But one thing is clear: last week he was riding high; this week he has run into a stone wall. Was this, in view of what the highly placed Republican said, the result of accident or method?

Last week President Eisenhower rebuked McCarthy for his tactics with witnesses, although without naming him. And McCarthy within one hour—an example of his fast timing—told Eisenhower in effect he'd handle witnesses as he saw fit.

Eisenhower has been criticized, particularly by Adlai Stevenson, for not taking a stronger stand on McCarthy. A stronger stand might have deflated McCarthy but it also might have angered him and split the party into factions.

By week's end McCarthy's energy, poise and power seemed undisturbed and undiminished. Then Saturday night in a Miami speech Speech Stevenson criticized Eisenhower, his administration, and McCarthy.

Anyone could have guessed McCarthy would demand the networks give him equal radio-television time to reply. He did. But the Republican National Committee also demanded time for a reply to Stevenson.

The networks, which last fall gave McCarthy equal time to reply to former President Truman, said "No" to McCarthy and "Yes" to the Republican committee.

High administration sources say Eisenhower himself called Leonard Hall, Republican National Committee chairman, and suggested the committee ask for the air time. Hall did.

The President may not intentionally have been trying to forestall McCarthy but that was the result. McCarthy acknowledged the committee's right to time on the air but insisted he was due time, also, because Stevenson criticized him.

He said the networks would give him the time or they'd learn what the law is. The law says candidates for public office be given "equal opportunities" on the air. But McCarthy is not now a candidate.

McCarthy said the rules of the Federal Communications Commission, the federal agency controlling the airwaves, "provide I must be given time to answer these charges."

The networks didn't budge. And yesterday in New York, McCarthy refused to let NBC and CBS cameramen take pictures of him at a news conference.

FCC member Robert E. Lee said he thought it a square deal for the networks to give the Republican party time, instead of McCarthy, to reply to Stevenson.

"McCarthy's my friend," Lee said, "but in this case it seems I would have to say: 'Look, pal, it seems like a square deal to me . . .'"

"If that's the rule," McCarthy said, "the rule has got to be changed." He said he would hire lawyers to check whether he has a right to demand time from the networks.

But that wasn't all that happened. Yesterday Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) tore into McCarthy on the Senate floor. He charged McCarthy is "doing his best to shatter" the Republican party and by his actions is diverting the nation from "far more dangerous problems" than internal communism.

Meanwhile, Vice President Nixon was picked—reportedly by Eisenhower—to make the Republican party's reply to Stevenson Saturday night.

Spring is near but for McCarthy this week brought the chilliest weather he has had to endure since the Eisenhower administration took over in January 1953.

Detroit Pair Sought In Rent Swindling

DETROIT (AP)—A blonde with a pony-tail hairdo and her male companion were sought by police today after renting the same apartment eight times and bilking eight familes of $495 in deposits.

The pair rented a $90-a-month apartment last Friday, police said, and then advertised it for rent at only $65. They did a land-office business and fled a half hour before police arrived to collect them and their rental deposits.

Ex-Communist Will Testify in Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A self-styled former Communist goes before the Senate investigations subcommittee today to continue his story of Reds working on electronics research for the government

The witness, Peter A. Gragis of Levittown, N Y, testified Friday he was a member of a Communist cell at the Federal Telecommunications Laboratory at Nutley N J in the 1940s, but that he has no knowledge of any espionage there He said he broke with communism in 1950

The Nutley plant, owned by the International Telephone and Telegraph Co, is engaged in electronics research for the armed forces

The subcommittee headed by Sen McCarthy (R-Wis), has been searching for evidence of Communist spying and subversion at defense installations

Meanwhile, Sen. Saltonstall (R Mass) and the Senate Armed Services Committee he heads planned a study of whether new laws are needed to cope with subversion of the armed forces

Saltonstall announced yesterday the committee will take testimony March 18 from Secretary of Defense Wilson on whether new legislation is needed.

Massachusetts Boy, 8, Hears From Draft Board

MALDEN, Mass (AP) — James Francis Coffey Jr was to appear before a draft board today to explain why he didn t register for the draft after he was "discharged from the service' last month

The board s letter reminded him that the law requires a discharged serviceman to register with the draft board within 30 days of his discharge

Jimmy is a little confused about the whole thing He s only 8

His father, a postman, had a little advice 'Ask about your state bonus check" he suggested "After all, you're a veteran now '

Why Beat Around the Bush?

We have been trying to follow the reasoning of Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts who wants to ask each visitor to the United States Capitol whether he is or ever has been a member of the Communist party.

What makes Mrs. Rogers' proposal so baffling is that she has it hooked up in some way with the recent shooting incident in the House of Representatives. She seems to believe that would-be assassins who intend to knock off a few congressmen before the police nab them would be strained out by asking them about Communist affiliations.

The pistol politicians who terrorized the House of Representatives were not Communists in the first place. They were Puerto Rican Nationalists. In the second place, it doesn't seem likely they or anyone else intending to shoot congressmen would be scared off by the necessity of answering questions about Communist party affiliation.

Why beat around the bush? Why not ask each House or Senate visitor in the future if he intends to shoot anyone. If he says, "Yes," Congress then could adopt a joint resolution against him and go into recess until the FBI arrives.

Right Man for a Hard Job

For 28 years, the last five of them as an adviser, Will H. Hays guided the entertainment destiny of the bulk of the motion picture industry of the United States. He was the right man for a hard job.

The nature of modern movies is a tribute to his integrity and skill. His service was roughly parallel with the service performed by Kenesaw Mountain Landis for the baseball industry.

The U. S. Supreme Court says baseball is a sport and not an industry, but there are people who insist that movies are an art and not a business, so that makes a standoff as far as a comparison with baseball is concerned.

The fact is motion pictures and baseball are mixtures of sport and art, respectively, with business. Both had to have firm guidance at a critical moment in their development to save them from spoilers intent on turning them into rackets. Baseball found Landis and the movies found Hays.

Hays' death at the age of 74 has closed a career which was useful to others in three fields — law, politics and motion-picture entertainment.

Republican Centennial

There have been times in this year of grace when the Republican party seemed to be considerably more than 100 years old and other times when it seemed to be in its infancy, but chronologically its centennial falls in 1954.

There is a choice of months, depending on your interpretation of party history.

This is what the record reveals:

On Feb. 28, 1854, a group of political dissidents met in Ripon, Wis., and adopted a resolution to organize a new party if the Kansas-Nebraska bill passed. They said the new party would be based on non-extension of slavery; the Kansas-Nebraska bill would let settlers decide the question for themselves.

The bill was passed on March 3.

On March 20, the Ripon group carried out its threat. In the words of Major Bovay, the leader: "We went into the little meeting . . . Whigs, Free Soilers and Democrats. We came out of it Republicans, and we were the first Republicans in the Union."

On May 9 of the same year, 30 members of Congress attended a meeting in Washington to discuss formation of an anti-slavery party. They agreed the name of the party should be Republican. The new party had reached Washington.

On July 6, the first Republican state convention was held in Jackson, Mich. It resolved: We will cooperate and be known as Republicans until the contest (against the schemes of aristocracy) be terminated." This was its first formal meeting.

The choice of months lies between February, March, May and July. Only the year of its founding is established clearly.

In 1856, the new Republican party had its first national convention, in Philadelphia. John C. Fremont the explorer was its first nominee for president. No one paid much attention to a gawky backwoodsman named Lincoln, an unsuccessful candidate for vice president. His hour of destiny was to arrive four years later, when he would lead the Republican party to its first victory against the "aristocrats" who demanded slavery as their price for staying in the Union.

Among optimists our favorite at the moment is the Chicago medical publicist who was asked by a reader what to do about the excess skin remaining after he had lost 30 pounds by rigorous dieting. Cheer up, the doc advised—you'll gain the poundage back within a year.

Divide and Conquer

By David Lawrence

Democrats Seize McCarthy Issue To Split GOP

Adlai Stevenson and the Democratic politicians are pursuing what they believe to be a clever strategy of "divide and conquer." It's a plan to split the Republican party on the anti-Communist issue and perhaps even force the formation of a third party, as in 1912, so that the Democrats can win easily in 1956.

Unfortunately, some Republicans on the Eastern Seaboard who have oversimplified the McCarthy controversy, as involving merely a contest between President Eisenhower and the Wisconsin senator, are falling for this strategy and are unwittingly alienating a large Republican vote which, having nowhere else to go, can be forced into a third party.

For the anti-Communist issue will not disappear if Eisenhower listens to those who want him to have a knockdown, drag-out fight with the Wisconsin senator and, as it is usually phrased, "assert his leadership."

THE PRACTICAL side of that there are many millions of voters in America who think that the Truman administration, as well as the Roosevelt administration, covered up the facts about the Communists in government and did not take the necessary measures to ferret them out.

All the suggestions for dealing with the Wisconsin senator which are being advanced by the anti-McCarthy wing of the Republican party, aided and abetted by the Democratic strategists, will not ease the simple fact that every public opinion poll taken since the McCarthy crusade began in 1950 has revealed a substantial segment of the Republican party in agreement with him.

The popularity curve of Sen. McCarthy was recorded as of February 1, 1954, by the Gallup polling organization as having gone from 36 per cent to 50 per cent of the voters canvased in both parties.

Even if this fluctuates, it is something in politics to realize that a man's following is so considerable.

It is not one senator but about 15,000,000 Republicans and a lot of former Democrats who voted Republican on this issue in 1952 who can be driven away from the party.

-:-

THE ODD PART of it is that the tactics of the anti-McCarthyites are strengthening rather than weakening that following. This is because the anti-McCarthy spokesmen never came to grips with the fundamental issue. They spend most of their time and emphasis denouncing the "methods" of the Wisconsin senator and trying to make McCarthy, the man, their sole target.

They overlook the fact that there is only one way to dissolve the McCarthy crusade and turn the Wisconsin senator toward other pursuits—and that's for the administration itself to do a convincing anti-Communist job.

The anti-McCarthy spokesmen talk much about the browbeating of a general in a committee session—as if vigorous cross-examination of witnesses were novel—but they say very litle about the indifference of a former president of the United States to the Harry Dexter White case of espionage set before him by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

They have conveniently forgotten that Truman sent White two letters of commendation long after FBI gave him the facts about the espionage.

TO THIS DAY many "left wingers" talk of Alger Hiss as possibly innocent, and they ignore the evidence that has accumulated showing how another former president of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, refused to pay any attention as early as 1939 to the facts about Hiss brought to him by Assistant Secretary of State Berle.

Millions of people really believe that for 20 years the Democratic administrations harbored treason in their ranks.

The Eisenhower administration started out to do a convincing job on the anti-Communist issue when Attorney General Brownell last autumn revealed some sensational facts about the cover-up by the preceding administration. But some persons who advise the President promptly persuaded Eisenhower to pull the rug from under his attorney general.

This development wasn't lost on many millions of Republicans, some of whom in 1952 flocked to the Taft banner only because they felt the general was too closely allied with the Truman administration and would never allow its wrongdoing to be fully exposed.

Eisenhower can fall for the idea that, by a public fight with McCarthy or his committee, he will enhance his prestige but practical politicians in his own circle will tell him that such a step would be fatal.

IF McCARTHY departed from the scene tomorrow, someone else would arise in Congress to take up where he left off. The issue is not one senator but the coddling and nurturing and harboring of traitors inside the government, and no amount of talk about "witch hunts" and "hysteria" will convince many millions of Republicans that the whole trouble centers in a rough-and-tumble fighting senator.

The followers of McCarthy believe in fighting fire with fire, and they are not too concerned if the "methods" of the district attorney in trying to get the facts are not always gentle or polite.

There is only one way to render McCarthy superfluous—and that's to convince the many millions of Republicans and former Democrats who have been impressed by the McCarthy crusade that communism as a philosophy and communism as a conspiracy have been completely exterminated from the policy making offices of the government of the United States, along with the dupes who have consistently pooh-poohed the Communist menace as a "red herring."

Unyielding Grip

Why Executives Shun Government Jobs

By Martin S. Hayden

In addition to making a truck-size hole in what President Eisenhower calls his "team," the resignation of Deputy Defense Secretary Kyes raises anew the problem of getting businessmen to take, and keep, government jobs.

In 15 Washington months the rugged former vice president of General Motors Corporation has demonstrated the speed with which a top, and young, corporate executive—if he is willing to put in seven 12-hour days a week—can take hold of even so vast an establishment as the Pentagon.

But Kyes' coming, and now his imminent departure, also illustrate the financial price such a young executive must pay to take public office and the difficulty he encounters in leaving without suspicion that his resignation was more sought than offered.

It was some weeks ago that Kyes persuaded the White House and Defense Secretary Wilson to let him go on or about May 1. His reasons were simple and, in the long run, financial.

KYES GAVE UP considerable when he agreed to come to Washington "for one year" and help his old GM chief get started in the new Eisenhower administration.

For the $20,000 - a - year deputy secretary's salary, he swapped a GM paycheck of $82,500, plus bonuses. He surrendered his accumulated benefits under the GM executive pension plan. Finally, as a last minute requirement for confirmation, the Senate insisted that Kyes, like Wilson, surrender all his General Motors stock—and this despite the fact that predecessors in his office had not similarly been required to divest themselves of all outside holdings.

Kyes sold 2,842 shares of GM stock at approximately $67 a share. The fact that he could today buy back the same stock at $63 does not offset the fact that, when he sold, he had to pay a 25 per cent capital gains tax on his forced realization of stock profit.

In addition, Kyes' coming into government jeopardized something more valuable. Still in his 40's, and the head of GM's truck and coach production, he was a winter book favorite as a future president of the world's biggest corporation. If he returns now, either to GM or to some other major private company, he is still in the age bracket for top competition. If he stays another couple of years in Washington, his place will be gone to the 48-year-olds in daily touch with business problems.

THIS, PLUS his initial promise to stay at the Pentagon only a year, were the true reasons behind Kyes' resignation. A premature leak last week end, however, forced White House announcement of his departure at a time accommodating to whisperers of a rumor that he is being forced out as an aftermath of the dispute between McCarthy and Army Secretary Stevens.

With Wilson on vacation, Kyes was the ranking Pentagon officer on hand when Stevens first did battle and then surrendered to McCarthy. As the story is now revealed, Kyes was as surprised by the developments as was the rest of official Washington.

He first learned from a news ticker that Stevens had met with McCarthy and issued his now famous communique clearing the way for further cross-examination by the senator of top military officers. Immediately Kyes went to Stevens' office where he listened to a dramatic scene at which the Army secretary told of his "successful" negotiations with McCarthy and was praised by ranking generals for a bold stand in behalf of the military.

KYES' WAS the first voice to suggest that "maybe" the press and the public were going to look at the agreement in a different light. He was proved right, and Stevens was first amazed and then crushed, when the world press and radio lambasted the communique as a "surrender" to McCarthy.

Still, the timing of the Kyes resignation announcement led most commentators to tie it with the Stevens-McCarthy row and leave at least an inference that there was something untold about the deputy secretary's departure from office.

Also several prominent editors have opined that good government cannot be run by short-term officeholders and that Kyes' resignation typifies a Republican tendency to make government service a hobby, rather than a career.

The administration's unofficial answer is that President Truman had more trouble than has Eisenhower in getting experienced executives into government; rarely did he succeed in getting anyone who, like Kyes, was approaching the peak of his private career instead of being over the hump and on the way to retirement.

No Place for Doubters

By MARK DANA

It would never do—simply never—for any skeptical person to say unkind things about the ancient practice of water-witching. Over the centuries, there have been persons claiming an inherited or stars-endowed ability to locate underground water by carrying a forked stick around and waiting for it to bend earthward.

Perhaps the idea started with Moses and Aaron in the arid wilderness, when Aaron's rod brought a stream rushing from a rock. Medicine men of varied primitive tribes have donned their Sunday-best regalia and showed their less-adorned fellows where to dig wells.

The term "divining rod" like "magic wand" is one of our favorite figures of speech, and woe be to any unbeliever who murmurs "mere superstition."

Anyhow, the drought over part of Illinois has brought water witches into action, and these male gentry are wandering around with forked twigs of hazel and peach trees showing desperate farm neighbors where wells should be dug.

The Illinois State Water Survey Board, worried about the 50-year record drought in some sections, officially relies on its geologists and their impressive graphs, showing where subterranean water is and isn't. Yet every time a successful well is dug on a diviner's say-so, local confidence in government counsel gets dunked and professional experts are discomfited no end.

Try and tell any farmer with a wand-located well that water, like gold, is "where you find it" regardless of pretty charts! Try to interest him in any man-made scientific gadgets of Geiger-counter nature when there's a man living out on Route 6 who is the seventh son of a seventh son or something, and as a soothsayer is a soothing gentleman, indeed!

As for making rain with an airplane and cloud-seeding crystals, grandfather would have had no truck with such even if the Indians' rain dances hadn't showed a much better way. Furthermore, old almanacs tell of water witching with a forked stick and are quite explicit about moon - phase crop plantings, and godness knows almanacs can't be doubted.

On Good Authority

By TRUMAN TWILL

A good-natured piece in The Rocky Mountain Herald, which is in a fair way to become the official publication for off-beat Americans looking for something different in weekly papers, discusses the authority racket in ancient bones.

The author is J. J. Markey, M.D., who points out with a twinkle in his literary eye that authorities who reconstruct the whole lives and appearances of creatures long since dead and forgotten from bone fragments are usually fakes.

In the case of the recently discredited Piltdown Man relics, for example, the fake authorities carried on their pseudo - scientific spoofing for som 40 years, only to be tripped up eventually by other authorities who pricked the balloon of their ponderous hypotheses and let out the hot air.

"The usual authority in any part of the world," observes Dr. Markey, "is an amiable fraud who can't make a living in competitive life. By a curious and inevitable centrifugal process he is thrown away from the creamy vortex of intense competition out into the tranquil atmosphere of universities and museums and tax-escaping foundation . . . This institution of the 'authority' has two shocking weaknesses . . . The first is that the authority is vulnerable, even greedy, to hear and approve the pronouncements of any other authority . . . The second is the formula adopted by all authorities of impulsively rejecting everything emanating from a source not an authority—not only rejecting it, but fighting it with all the malignant enthusiasm employed in approving anything emanating from a fellow authority."

We have pondered about this for many days, not because of any interest in paleontology but because of a lifelong interest in the matter of authority.

This interest ranges from the drab absurdity of adults who have made a mess of their own lives telling others how to live to the prescriptions in human affairs which have brought disaster and suffering to others in the past.

What it amounts to is that most of us want someone to pretend to know the unknowable. That is why weather forecasters are easily forgiven their gross blunders; there is an insatiable demand for their educated guesswork.

That is why quackery in the arts, sciences and humanities flourishes and grows apace. After all, the only difference between an authority and a quack is that the quack practices systematic deception, whereas the authority stays within the bounds of propriety.

In many cases, the person who becomes an authority is more sinned against than sinning. All he ever intended to do in the first place was pass an opinion on something about which he had a smattering of information. Before he knew it, he was being quoted as an authority and, being only human, he decided to clean up on human nature's insatiable demand for more knowledge than it ever can possess.

The crowning nonsense is for an authority in mathematics, for instance, to take himself seriously as an authority in politics, which is Albert Einstein's monumental folly. Or for a millionaire to set himself up as an authority in human relations, instead of sticking to his money-grabbing.

What authorities have to say is always interesting because it always raises the same question: How do they know what they claim to know.

The answer is that they cannot know what they claim to know. They are only guessing. It is only the gullibility of their listeners which causes them to be credited with knowledge they do not have and could never possibly attain. If they did attain it, moreover, they would have to be destroyed forthwith because then they would know more than would be good for the rest of us.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

It's in the News

An educator says students at exams should relax by taking off their shoes. . . . We still doubt that a student flunking will get far with an alibi: "Professor, I would have passed except that my feet hurt."

"A boy should prepare for exams physically," says the educator, "just as a good batter studies a pitcher to dope out what kind of a ball he will throw, a student must study the teacher."

We talked this over with a couple of college lads and both agreed that by the time they had completed trying to dope out the professor's pitch they had fanned and were back in the dugout. "I take my shoes off at all exams," one student told us, "but the trouble is that the teacher takes his off also, and wears spiked socks!"

Soviet Russia is suddenly emphasizing the importance of glamor in its women, and on a national Women's Day there was a special pitch for perfumes, face creams, lipsticks, etc. The Kremlin has evidently come out for that schoolgirl complexion and the Skin the Iron Curtain Loves to Drop On. . . . Moscow's windows displayed a perfume labeled "Jubilee of the Red Army," and we look for "Breath of the Urals," "Ivan's Passion," "Red Square Temptation" and something advertised to milady as "Vishinsky Number 5" any day now. . . . We hear Russia also is going big for smart hair-do routines. . . . "Which one has the Tonivarich?"

This Russian recognition of glamor may be the first real indication of a break in the Soviet iron front. If its women go all out for beauty it may be the prelude to peace, diverting the Soviet male mind from 20-year plans world conquest and atomic bombs. . . . Across the vision of a Russian in the midst of an abusive tirade against the free world may pass a vision of female loveliness and switch him to two words, "Some baby!"

The sternest Soviet leader, going downtown with a will of iron and a countenance of ice, may glimpse a beautiful "dish" and wind up humming, "That's Amore" or "Stranger in Paradise" instead of screaming, "Down with the warmongering capitalistic world!"

A Pravda or Izvestia editor, writing, "The peaceful people of the U.S.S.R. must fight the imperialistic plotters to the death," may see his stenographer with a new hair-do and cry, "Shall we dance?" . . . The outlook is promising, and maybe lipstick, face cream and the right scent can do more than U.N. to end the cold war.

Scandalous revelations in trotting-track operations in New York State indicate that a movie of it could well be titled: "Santa Claus in a Sulky." It would seem that any man of prominence politically who didn't get a "cut" was either dead or on Mt. Everest. Nevertheless, the story of George Morton Levy and his start in trotting racing has Horatio Alger touches. Levy, a Long Island lawyer, noting the rising fame of the Hambletonian at Goshen, felt that big-city people would take to the trotters. The consensus was that this was essentially a sport for the rural areas and that it would have no chance in a metropolis. Levy got mostly laughs when he looked for backers, and on a $25,000 loan took an abandoned motor racing track on Long Island, installed the trotters and became a millionaire.

The feat could have been billed as "Changing a White Elephant Into Fort Knox." The song was "With a HAY-Money-Money and a Hot Cha Cha" as things began to go big.

The theme seemed to be, "The horse is man's best friend, but it's not a bad idea to have the politicians on your side, too." They say Levy ran a set of harness into a fortune and that his favorite books were "David Harum," "Black Beauty" and "Gold Mining Made Easy."

Marionite Seeks 'Mrs. America' Crown

Mother of Two Children, Mrs. Ann Day, Vies For Contest Honor

Beauty and homemaking ability may pay big dividends to a 30-year-old Marion housewife

Mrs Ann Day of 701 Girard Ave has entered the "Mrs America" contest She sent her application in to contest headquarters in New York City about Feb 20 and is now hopefully awaiting notification that she has won a trip to Ormond Beach, Fla. to compete in the finals

THE PETITE BRUNETTE is the wife of Steven Day, a state highway patrolman, and mother of 10-year-old Steven and Maureen 8 •Dad and the kids are just as hopeful as Mom because they get to go to Florida, too—with all expenses paid

Mrs Day first became interested in the contest when she saw an advertisement and application in a magazine 'I wouldn t have paid any attention to it—I ve never entered any kind of a contest before — except that it said entrants were to be judged 70 per cent on homemaking abilities and 30 per cent on appearance '

Well, the 'Mrs America" entrant does have a beautiful home and lovely children, this in spite of holding down a job as receptionist at Eaton Mfg Co, but she need not fear her 'appearance ' will put her out of the running for top honors.

THE CONTEST this year is different from previous "Mrs America" contests in that the word beauty is not attached Instead of a Labor Day bathing suit parade the contest will be held in April and judging will be based on homemaking ability An entrant must for instance write a 500-word essay telling how she manages her household and what contributions she makes to her community She must plan a complete menu for all the meals of a day. This will be judged for nutritional value, flavor, texture, color, suitability for her family, the seasonal use of foods, and value per dollar.

"MRS AMERICA 1955" must be able to prepare the major meal of her menu in 1½ hours while judges watch She must do a family wash and then iron one piece like a frilly baby s dress

Then, she participates in a surprise drawing during which each contestant receives a request to make a dessert a salad or a bo snack from supplies made available to her by the judges

But the winner can t be a 'plain Jane either She ll be interviewed on stage so that judges may have an opportunity to evaluate her voice poise and general appearance She won t have to be the Marilyn Monroe type but it won t hurt if she is

IF SHE IS accepted for the finals Mrs Day and her family will travel to Ellinor Village Ormond Beach Florida April 21 where 50 homes have been set aside for the contestants' use All the judging will take place in the individual homes

What will the winner receive for all this hard work? As a state winner she and her family would receive a five-day all expenses paid trip to Florida, plus other assorted prizes If chosen national winner she would receive a four-week all expenses paid vacation in Florida with her family then a four-week grand tour—all expenses paid again—through nine European countries In addition she ll receive a complete wardrobe for the trip and when she returns her kitchen and laundry will be completely new Of course she'll have an opportunity to earn money through personal appearances and modeling assignments

POURING A CUP OF COFFEE for her husband, Steven is Mrs. Ann Day of 701 Girard Ave , entrant in the Mrs America" contest Besides caring for husband two children, Steven, 10, and Maureen, 8 and managing an attractive home Mrs Day holds down a full-time job as a receptionist, Mr. Day is a State Highway patrolman
